G. MORRIS SMITH, M.A., D.D.

President

Franklin and Marshall Academy, 1907; B. A., Roanoke College, 1911; M. A., Princeton University, 1912; Instructor Blair Academy, Blairstown, N. J., 1912-14; Graduate Mt. Airy Seminary, 1919; Pastor English Lutheran Church, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., 1918-20; Pastor Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Buffalo, N. Y., 1920-28. Present position, 1928.

Dr. Smith began his work on Susquehanna's campus in the spring of 1928, and since that time the student body has come to look upon him not only as the executive head of the college but as a friend to each and every student on her campus.

He was formally inaugurated November 23,

1928. Judging from the progress Susquehanna has made thus far under his leadership, we can look for great things in the future.

ALMA MATER

The story we would tell you, friends,
 Would cover many a book;
The subject matter of the same
 Is found in every nook
Of old S. U.'s broad campus,
 The common battle ground,
Whose trees might whisper secrets grave,
 Amusing and profound.

CHORUS

Of Susquehanna now we sing,
Let Susquehanna's praises ring,
Loyal to her by night and by noon,
We'll raise the Orange and Maroon,
Loyal to her by night and by noon,
We'll raise the Orange and Maroon.

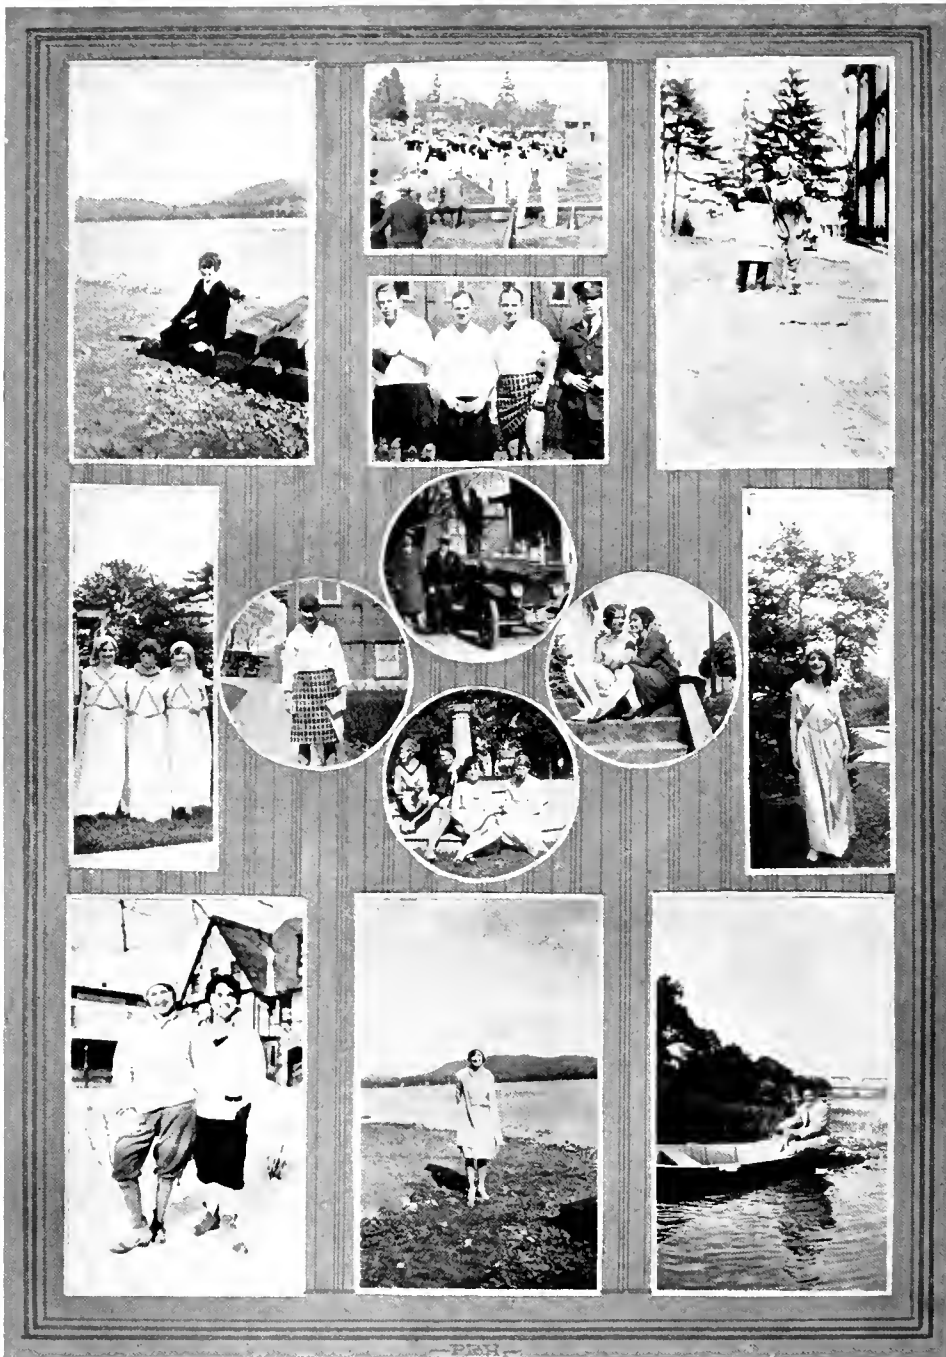

How dear to one and all the name
 Their Alma Mater bears,
When they have left its classic halls,
 To shoulder worldly cares.
Of winning maids and noble lords
 Of dear old college days,
Come join in recollections fond,
 And tell us of your ways.

In classroom and on gridiron, friends,
 S. U. will stand the test;
Defeat to her a word unknown,
 Her motto, "Do your best,"
With vim, then let us give the yell,
 Display her banner bright,
That all may know of old S. U.
 She stands for God and right.

E. EDWIN SHELDON.

IF OUR short years ago, in the fall of 1925, we, the present Senior Class, made our debut on Susquehanna's campus. The majority of us had never been in Selinsgrove before and as a result the problem of acclimating ourselves to new surroundings as well as to the novel routine of college life, confronted us. Soon after the registration program had been completed, the Sophomores made known their presence by giving us our Frosh rules. Thus we found ourselves subordinate to them and to the upperclassmen. It was not long however before we became aware of our existence as an independent class and not just as an unorganized group of students subject to others' rule. In view of this fact we decided to have a "get-away," on which occasion we would elect our officers for our initial year at S. U. and become better acquainted with each other, in order that we might co-operate more easily in meeting the obligations which would naturally come before us. The first important event to which we looked forward was the annual Sophomore-Frosh "tie-up." Our lads were outnumbered, but we can truly compliment them for their fighting spirit, even though they could not claim the victory. On Alumni Day the class experienced its first real thrill of victory, when its football team held the Sophomores to a 6-6 tie. In athletics, both the boys and the girls displayed unusual talent, the former by capturing the Inter-class Basketball championship and the latter by winning the Inter-class Baseball trophy. Besides, our intellectual and social lives were not neglected. We were ever ready for instruction in the classroom and always willing to do our share of the work.

Our Sophomore days shone with an equal brilliance. This year a great change had come over us. No longer did Susquehanna seem to be a strange place, but an institution which we had known and loved for years. Our first duty was to receive the new Freshman Class—and one must admit that we gave them a real reception. During the semester the last of the annual "tie-up" days was celebrated. The final score of this event was a 0-0 score. Once more we displayed our athletic ability by being represented in football, basketball, hockey, soccer, baseball and track. The boys produced excellent teams and the coeds completely defeated their rivals in both baseball and basketball.

Our Junior year was equally victorious. At this time we devoted our abilities to publishing the LANTHORN and sponsoring the Junior Prom. Both proved to be highly successful.

This year we are attempting to uphold the ideals we have determined for ourselves and to carry on the standards we have undertaken for the betterment of Susquehanna. It is our sincere wish that when the Class of '29 has been graduated, her Alma Mater will point with pride and say "There is a class which has proved itself to be truly worthwhile in the history of the college."

THE CLASS OF '30

FRANK E. RAMSEY	President
L. HOWARD LUKEHART	Vice-President
MARJORIE PHILLIPS	Secretary
LEOLIN HAYES	Financial Secretary
WILMA WALKER	Financial Secretary
GEORGE SPANGLER	Treasurer
HOWARD J. WERTZ	Historian

COMING to Susquehanna's campus for the first time as Freshmen, we soon adjusted ourselves to our new surroundings. Two days after our arrival we were formally initiated as Freshmen. In the annual tie-up, the boys showed their fighting spirit and the affair ended in a scoreless scrap. Our class was well represented in extra-curricular activities; nine of the fifteen letter-men in Football being Freshmen. In the Debating Club, Glee Club, and Ladies' Choral Club, many of our classmates took an active part. We must not forget those members of our class who fought in Basketball and upheld the banners of S. U. in Track. We can truthfully say that our first year was a successful and happy one.

Entering again as Sophomores, we found that we had a great task to perform. Our class was greatly diminished, new faces appearing to take the places of the old ones. Though we lost the tug-of-war and the Sophomore-Freshman Football game, we have nothing to regret for we came back fighting and won the Inter-Class Soccer trophy. The girls did their share in winning fame for '30 by capturing the Inter-Class Hockey Trophy. We were determined to continue our supremacy and did so by winning the Inter-Class Basketball Championship, both boys and girls. Another accomplishment of which we feel proud is that we were the first class to successfully manage a Sophomore Hop. We succeeded in winning the Indoor Track Meet, Outdoor Inter-Class Relay and Outdoor Inter-class Track Meet.

A successful class must have its leaders and so to end a prosperous year we elected the following officers: Frank E. Ramsey, President; L. Howard Lukehart, Vice-President; Marjorie Phillips, Secretary; George Spangler, Treasurer, and Howard J. Wertz, Historian.

And so two years have passed. Now we are Juniors. The Chairmen of the Junior Prom Committees have been appointed and everyone is looking forward to a big time. We can feel proud of those who again represented us on the gridiron. We sincerely hope that we can keep up the standards of our class and the banners of old S. U.

HOWARD J. WERTZ,
Class Historian.

"Elly"

The young man whose likeness you see above came to us untamed from the wild and woolly fastnesses of that little borough so popular with the men of our college, Freeburg. Perhaps that is one of the reasons why "Elly" is so popular among his fellow-students.

Another reason is that he is a "regular guy." His chief social pastime is playing pin-ochle, and because of the law of exercise has become quite adapt at his very popular pas-time. Elwood also likes athletics, and played on our Sophomore Football team in the Soph-Frosh game, which is now history. He made a strong bid for a berth on the varsity track team, but owing to a bad knee, reluctantly gave up.

Elwood has distinguished himself as a student, especially in the chemistry laboratory, where he spends many long hours in careful manipulation of test tubes and chemicals.

"Dottie"

Here's to "Dotty," who holds her place in the Musical field. Small of stature—yes. Nevertheless, she is not overlooked because of that friendly greeting. "Everywhere that Dottie goes that smile is sure to go." It is this that betrays the fun and the jolly nature that might be hidden otherwise. We always find her especially happy when Friday afternoon comes. As the days go by, they are given their usual mark to indicate that the week-end is a little nearer. We wonder why?

Here is the typical student who knows when and how to study. She is very conscientious about all things, whether it be in work or social lines.

Her talents for a musician cannot be kept back. They are there and will come out. Hand in hand with her ambitious and jolly nature goes the motto:

"Once a friend, always a friend."

CLASS of 1930

PAUL BISHOP
Harrisburg, Pa.

Business Administration Phi Mu Delta
Harrisburg Technical High School '25; Scrub
Football, (1, 2); Varsity Track '26, '27.

"Bish"

"Bish" completed a two-year business course here in the spring of '27, but after being out in the wide world for a year, he decided to come back into the fold of S. U.'s classic halls again.

Paul made an outstanding name for himself this fall when he was the winner of the famous boxing bout. He then proved that even though he is small, he is mighty. Since then he is known as battling Kid Bishop.

Speed is one of the characteristics of this young man—whether it is on the track, or as in his former days, in the capacity of waiter. Don't we all remember how everyone used to gasp when "Bish" rushed through the dining hall, carrying a tray laden with such a stack of dishes?

We feel confident that his same power and speed will carry him through in the business world.

ELLEN BONNEY

"Bonnie"

This petite little lady—none other than Bonney—hailing from a place called Pen Argyl. She is one of the most charming members of our class. Ellen is quite a talker. If she isn't asking questions she is answering them.

But come to think of it, she's a good student. Many a time she came to the rescue of her classes with a brilliant answer.

Ellen is always in demand. Either on the athletic field, in the dorm or most anywhere else. She is quite the hockey player, too.

Perhaps, too, Ellen's chief charm is her sweet femininity. She is agreeable, she is demure, lovely and charming.

"She was a vision of delight
When first she gleamed upon my sight."

"Eddie"

When you hear the inrush of a train you are reminded of the way "Ed" runs things. His numerous collegiate activities are run on schedule.

"Ed" is interested in the deeper things of life—life-saving and deep-sea-diving. He has aided in constructing the piers of the Y. M. C. A. and Pre-Theological Club. In this realm "Ed" will perform his most effective mission. Since Germany had her Luther, England her Wesley, why not America her Bollinger?

Then, too, "Ed" has been a member of the Glee Club. Just ask him about some of those famous Glee Club trips, what do you say, "Ed"?

Some day we may see Edward as president of the Federation of Churches of America or National Y. M. President.

"Better not to be at all than not to be noble."

"Kay"

The old saying, "You can't judge a book by its cover" is not true in connection with Catherine. Because behind that pair of brown eyes lurks more mischief than one would think.

We know that Catherine has all the best qualities for teaching, but we would not feel safe in prophesying that she will teach for a long time for such an attractive "Miss" would never want to class herself among those self-supporting women.

Catherine belongs to the "downstairs" gang and is one of its most popular members.

As a girl who is full of fun, a pleasant companion, and a good school teacher, you take with you best wishes for your happiness and success from the Class of '30.

"Whose little form, lodges a mighty mind."

CLASS OF 1930

NAN EVELYN BRINSER
Middletown, Pa.

Commerce Teacher Training

Middletown High School '25; Elizabethtown College '25, '26.

Evelyn is one of our new girls this year. She left her profession to spend two years with us. We are glad to welcome Evelyn into our midst.

Of course, we don't know her so well, yet, but her short stay has proved to us that she is a fine school teacher if she is as good a teacher as she is "proctor."

She has also shown that she is loyal to her class and is a real live co-ed.

Our only regret is that Evelyn waited so long to join our ranks at Susquehanna. We would like to have known her for two years more, but, we're glad she came and we hope she never will regret her choice.

It does not take long to see that ability and determination are a part of Evelyn and we know she will have the success that her classmates most heartily wish her.

JAMES JOSEPH BRUNO
Kelayres, Pa.

Pre-Medical

Here we have another of our members who entered our ranks this year. He is taking Pre-Medical work and we predict a promising future for such an ambitious young man.

But his work is not sufficiently heavy that he cannot take time out for a little social recreation. Every dance finds him there among the merrymakers having a good time. But we have heard that all his good times do not take place on the campus but every now and then he forgets the books and the laboratory and goes out for a dance or so in a neighboring city.

His chief pastime is playing pranks on his fellow inmates in Hassinger Hall, but they still like him in spite of his mischievous tricks.

Although he came to us when our college career was half over, we are mighty happy to welcome him and the Class of '30 can do nothing less than wish him success, spelled in capital letters.

"Arrah"

"Patz"

Oh! Goodie, Goodie! How happy we are that "Patz" is a member of the Class of '30.
She comes from Ashland, yes, she's a coal cracker and proud of it.

"Patz" rarely honors Seibert Hall with her presence over the week-end. She divides her time between Ashland, Sunbury and Philadelphia. There's a big attraction some place for our Patzie Anne and we have a lingering suspicion that a certain U. of P. student divides his week-ends also.

Business is Patz' hobby—in this vocation we see success in huge letters for her. We know she's going to love keeping books for a certain dealer in radios and orthophonics, and we know she'll keep his date book well filled.

From the appearance of this unobtrusive maid one might think her very quiet and demure, but we have found her quite different behind the mask. All who know her will testify that she is well able to play practical jokes and keep up her end of the fun.
She is endowed with a happy disposition and warm personality; one just feels the warm personality; one just feels the warmth of her friendship but can't measure or describe it.

Twila is a native of Snyder County and thus does not spend all her time on the campus. She is always here though when a hockey or basketball game is to be played and she usually aids in bringing the honors to her side.

Twila expects to teach and we note her as one of the most promising candidates in this field.

"Chubby"

"Who's this coming down the street—why—none other than Harold Grossman—the big boy from the Baked Bean State."

Harold comes from Amherst with the reputation of a good business student and he surely shows it in Professor Fisher's business classes.

In our Freshman year Harold left us on account of illness. He came back our Sophomore year and we surely were glad to see him again and we're hoping he continues to stay with us until we leave our Alma Mater to enter life's work.

Harold is not only a student but also a cut-up and we hear he plays bridge(?)—do you Harold? Oh, well—we'll leave the boys at Hassinger tell us that.

Here is another of our day students who comes and goes at will. She is one of the demure maidens, but holds many admirable qualities which when developed, will undoubtedly lead to success.

Scholastically, the only place to look for her is near the top. Just so in all her work for it is always done with the utmost care. Never is anything found wanting preparation.

Sincerity, being one of her main characteristics, can but be admired. Loyalty to friends is another worthy trait of which Elizabeth is possessor. She's true blue in every way.

We regret that your talents and excessive work will enable you to graduate before our class, Elizabeth. The most we can say is, that our best wishes for success and happiness shall go with you for your life's work.

"Betty"

Sparkling black eyes, smiling countenance, dancing feet and cheery greeting, that's Betty.

This ambitious lass began her college education the summer immediately following her graduation from High School, thus setting herself about half a year ahead of her classmates, another summer school term placed her with the class of '30, and we're happy to welcome her.

Betty would rather dance than eat and a dance on the campus without her would be hardly deemed a success. Her program always includes more dances than she can fill in the short space of three or four hours. Yes, Betty rarely misses a dance for she always has the "means" for getting there.

Of course we all know "Jack" and we cannot help but like him. With his many characteristics he has attained many honors since he entered S. U. He is a person who will succeed no matter what he undertakes in life. Full of determination—that's Jack.

Jack has proved his worth to his Alma Mater in many ways, but especially in athletics. In football, he is a steady man, always there with the goods, willing to give his best. In basketball, he has reached great heights, being one of the flashy players. How we do love to see you shoot those baskets, Jack!

Girls? Why sure Jack likes the opposite sex. Now to be very frank, Jack, don't you think the Sunbury ladies are sweet?

When you have chosen your life profession think back of the happy times spent at S. U. and we feel sure that you will have some inspirations.

Goodbye and good luck, Jack.

Music—yes indeed, that's her line and she is very efficient. Fiddle and I know how to get along together with Janet. This little denizen of Berlin also runs scales on the piano energetically as she does stairs.

We suppose that some of her happiest moments are the high notes of the choral club as she has a beautiful voice.

Her happiness is apparent. She analyzes and draws her conclusions in a practical way while the rest are laboring with the trial and error method. She is not living in the dorm with us this year and we miss those giggles and clever pranks whose origin could be traced to Janet's whereabouts last year.

Here we are introducing the twin sister. She also promises to be one of the famous musicians of today.

Ruth lacks the boisterousness of the modern age. She has the daintiness and reserve which are characteristic of fine musicians. Her remarkable ability as a pianist and her skill in playing a violin, warrant our saying a fine musician is too mild an expression in summarizing her musical talent.

Ruth is very conscientious about her work, another requisite of success. All indications seem to point toward great things for you Ruth—expect them.

We must not forget her other great attraction for brunettes—only one — please, cause it is undeniable.

We wish to introduce Mary as a conscientious student and a good friend to all.

Unprepared is a foreign word to her. Not only in class does she show her marked ability, but proved herself a worthy member of the Varsity debating team.

Mary is not selfish with her knowledge. She is always there when you need her, a reliable friend. Because of her desire to help others and her genial disposition she won for herself a host of friends.

We feel confident she is bound to excel in whatever she undertakes and bring honor to the Class of '30.

We are especially proud of Edith, her pleasant ways and frequent kindness have won our hearts. Her work in the class room has always been commendable.

She is a very popular member of the "downstairs gang" and adds real life to any gathering. Edith has also been an eager participant in class athletics.

This maiden in just the type we can picture in a schoolroom in the capacity of teacher and we know that her personality and ability are a sure guarantee for her success.

This attractive blue-eyed lass is a native of Maryland—not a Southerner in the truest sense of the word, but she lives far "enuf" South to have a certain aversion for snow and cold weather which usually accompanies those who dwell in a warm climate.

"Ruthie" belongs to the P.K.'s and as all good minister's daughters, she is a student. She is fond of literature, but we feel that Ruth's ability in composition is not neglected since a good many letters are written weekly—now just who is the lucky recipient of so much mail—we'll let you ask her.

Ruth plans to be a librarian—so we predict success if too much time is not spent in perusing volumes for references to "Richard, the Lion-hearted."

Here is another of our fellows who is an aspirant to the teaching profession. It is certain that he will have a good foundation for his work. Conscientious in his work—I should say. It must be done and done right. This is very self-evident in classwork.

He is very reserved in his manner—maybe this is due in part to his keeping his troubles to himself. It is possible that he doesn't have many. We hope not, Fisher, for too many of these within yourself will not assure a happy state of mind.

True—he does seem rather bashful; even to the extent of being cynical. Even tho' this is true we know he is acquainted with some of our co-eds.

Who says Selinsgrove can't be proud of her own hometown products? No one dare to say it if they have once met "Gertie."

Of course you have all seen this fair athlete either out on the hockey field or on the gym floor. All through High School "Gertie" was a basketball star and she didn't change her reputation when she came to college.

In describing this co-ed, one of the first things to enter our minds is her dignity. Well, we have never seen her without it.

Unfortunately, "Gertie" decided to complete her college course in three years. It will leave quite a vacant place in our ranks, but then we will always consider her as one of the Class of '30.

Gertrude says she is going to teach Latin. We know that even Cicero would be proud of this member of his train of followers. We can also picture "Gertie" as a director in physical education.

"Gertie" has high ideals and we know they will be realized.

If you were considering stature as a sign of importance Arthur would very likely be overlooked. But fortunately, this is not the way a man is measured. Arthur is quite capable of making his stand in life beside the big "six-footers."

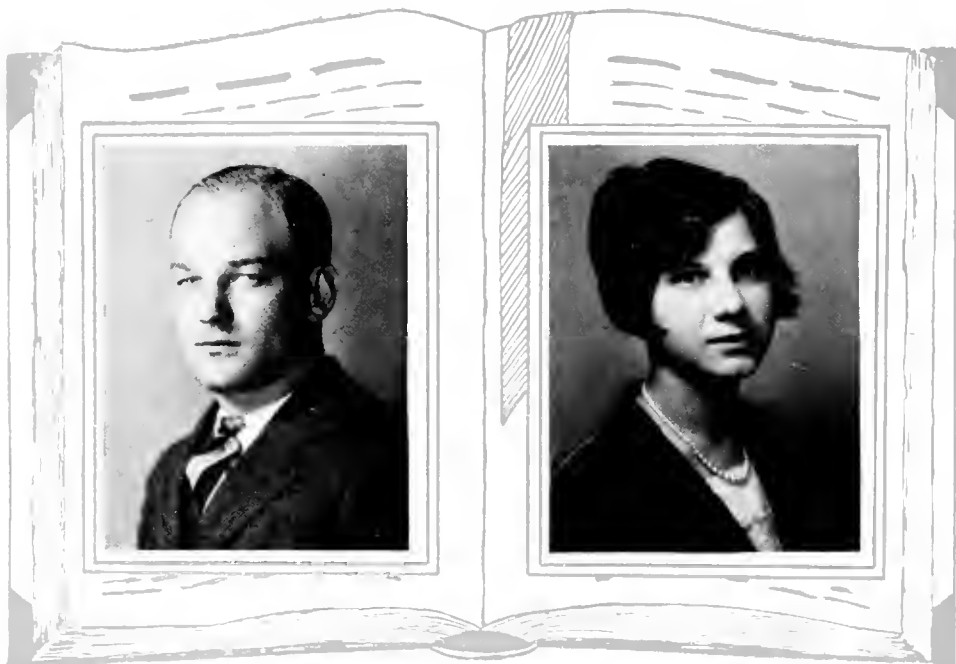

Arthur is another crusader from Middleburg, the town of great renown. Yes, that's the location of the Snyder County Jail. We don't have any evidence of his acquaintance with that institution, however.

We always knew the hometown had a special attraction for Arthur, but we were never enlightened concerning the matter until this year. Perhaps through Arthur's influence "she" was persuaded to continue her education at Susquehanna.

Arthur is a good companion and always ready to help when called upon. Our desire is that the hope of his youth may be realized.

"Rip"

Here we have the "official entertainer" of of the school. More than once he has broken the solemnity or stillness of a classroom by some original stunt or remark, and besides, he has such a way about him that even a professor must give way to the expression of his amusement.

"Rip" spent his first two college years at S. U. in 1925 and 1926. Then after leaving for a while the call of his old associations was too much for him and he again returned and the Class of '30 is mighty glad that "Rip" is going to run his last two milestones with us.

We have all seen "Rip" in action on the football field and know that his 190 pounds backed by good judgment have caused the enemy some perplexity. As Captain of the Junior Varsity he made quite a name for himself. Just ask him about the trip to Dickinson Seminary and the Williamsport Ambulance.

"Good things from little acorns grow," so the saying goes and this maxim certainly applies to Anne. She may be small in stature, but she makes up for it in other ways.

Did you ever see her play hockey? Well, you surely must not miss that for she surely swings a mean club, and when she starts running down the field the ball has to roll some to keep up with her.

"Anne" like basketball too, and one might see her rolling around on the floor most any day in the week, but especially when the Juniors practice.

She is a regular ray of sunshine in the day students' room and she performs more pranks than the average size person would think of. However, the time between classes goes rapidly when "Anne" is around.

"Goodie"

"Goodie" came to us from the wilds of Middleburg three short years ago. He soon adapted himself to S. U. and although he didn't reside on the campus he got around a good bit.

Sherman is one of the most bashful boys in the class and we believe it is only a bluff as he does like the fair sex.

As an athlete he had excelled on the "diamond" and we believe his dreams will come true the way he hits the ball—that of rivaling "Babe" for batting honors. He is also one of our favorite basketball players, being one of the famous combination of the "Middleburg Twins."

We must not forget his scholastic ability, as this young man doesn't believe in all play. His earnest attitude toward his academic work ranks him in the foremost of the class.

If you are looking for a friend to drive the blues away, look up "Ruthie," she will be sure to find a bright spot somewhere.

She says she intends to enter the teaching profession, but we have reasons to believe her thoughts dwell more frequently on a particular blond and a dream house.

Ruth is particularly anxious for Christmas time, because then she eagerly awaits the arrival of good old Saint "Nick."

Whatever she may do, wherever she may go the Class of '30 wishes her happiness.

Here he comes—the most popular man on the campus, especially at Seibert Hall. "Is there one for me, Wayne?" Then he is pursued to the mail box.

He has not only proved himself very capable in mail service, but also in other fields.

In classwork his slogan can be none other than "Be Prepared," for that he always is. His work shows that honest efforts are put forth to get the most out of this phase of college life.

As to characteristics, that of promptness is very outstanding. 'Tis true we know, almost to the minute when our mail will arrive. Then too, he is always on time to classes. A diligent manner is to be admired, and that we find here.

He is the possessor of a certain sense of humor, but it is somewhat hidden by his unassuming manner.

Gertrude is one of our co-eds, whom all have not learned to know especially well. Being a day-student, her campus life is not as fully developed as it might be.

However, to all she is known as an S. U. booster. Zeal and enthusiasm in classwork and extra-curricular activities make for a true Susquehannian. We know she has a real school spirit. Sincerity being a dominating characteristic, makes all who do know her, realize that she is the possessor many possibilities for success in her chosen profession, teaching.

As "Gertie" goes here and there in that altruistic manner, admiration at once arises within us. "Always thoughtful of others and willing to do my bit" is a principle she follows. Truly, this is a worthy one.

If you are looking for someone skilled in the fields of literature, botany or historical research, you need go no further after you have once found Leolin. These fields have been studied by him with a scrutinizing eye and a searching mind. To say merely that he is a thorough worker does not do full justice to his untiring efforts.

Leolin has learned to do one thing, which almost everyone fails to do, and that is to keep silent. His silence is not an empty silence, but one filled with serious thought and meditation. Every recitation has shown proof of much forethought.

He has followed in the steps of Burroughs as a naturalist. His collection of specimens is one of which any botanist might well be proud.

He has not disclosed to us many facts concerning his ambitions, but we would say that his successful college days are arrows pointing to ever higher and greater attainments.

Syracuse surely lost a good man when Russell Heime decided to come to Susquehanna. He has always been an S. U. man (once of Syracuse and now of Susquehanna).

One scarcely notices him on the campus, but he makes up for this in the classroom and on the baseball diamond. He was a big asset to our Baseball Team in the Spring of 1927 and we are looking forward to great things from him during the 1929 season. But his athletic ability is not entirely confined to baseball, for he is also out for track.

The above young man? Oh, he is none other than "Vince" Jones and he lives in the big city of Centralia—the heart of the coal regions.

As a Freshman, "Vince" was a worker. He was called upon to do many things—and he always succeeded. In the Frosh-Soph Tie Up our Frosh year Sonny had some of his ribs broken.

"Vince" was advertising manager of the Soph Hop and he proved then that he was one of Professor Fisher's good business students.

The lad is quite a basketball player. He made good on our class team and he was one of the high-lights in helping the Soph Class win the Basketball Championship last year.

But aside from all this—it is whispered that "Vince" has lost his heart to a certain fair co-ed at Seibert Hall. True, "Vince"?

A cheery greeting for everyone—that phrase best expresses our impression of "Milt," for he makes it his business to speak to all he meets and to wish to one and all the best that the day can offer.

"Milt" was first seen on S. U.'s campus during the summer session last year and when the fall term opened he decided to join the Class of '30.

"Milt's" chief hobby is acting and his ability in this line cannot be overestimated. We can imagine "Milt" feeling perfectly at ease on the stage.

He has chosen to be a day-student rather than to room on the campus. However, we often see him not only at classes but he seems to have a certain degree of interest in Seibert Hall.

He says he will only be with us this year. We regret that his sojourn is so brief, but we are happy to have known him. We can but extend our regards and best wishes for a happy and successful future.

Lillian is of a very altruistic nature, always thinking of others first and ever ready to help them even if it does mean her own inconvenience.

In the study of languages, Lillian excels and we think some day she may be an efficient interpreter or a teacher of French and Spanish.

Lillian spent her Freshman Year at Thiel, a sister school of Susquehanna. It's just too bad for Thiel that she had to suffer such a loss.

We wish you success in your chosen career, Lillian, but we fear some Sir Lancelot will come and take you away from it.

Here he is, folks! No use looking further! This young gentleman whose dignified and genial countenance you see before you, hails from the town of Mifflinburg.

Socially—but we need not say more: scholastically, well, he is pulling right through in the Commercial Department; and musically, he is quite an accomplished member of the Glee Club.

S. U.'s co-eds have often thought he had a heart of stone but, no, girls, it is just pre-occupied. Follow his steps to the home of a certain Sunbury teacher some evening and the mystery will be solved.

While lack of space deters us from expressing more fully our esteem and admiration for Luther, we each and everyone wish him well and are sure that some day we will prize his friendship and shout our acquaintance from the housetops.

Room No. 27 of Seibert Hall has become quite renowned. Why? Just because Grace has been one of its inmates for three years. It has been the scene of many a feed and has therefore been the source of comfort for many a hungry wanderer.

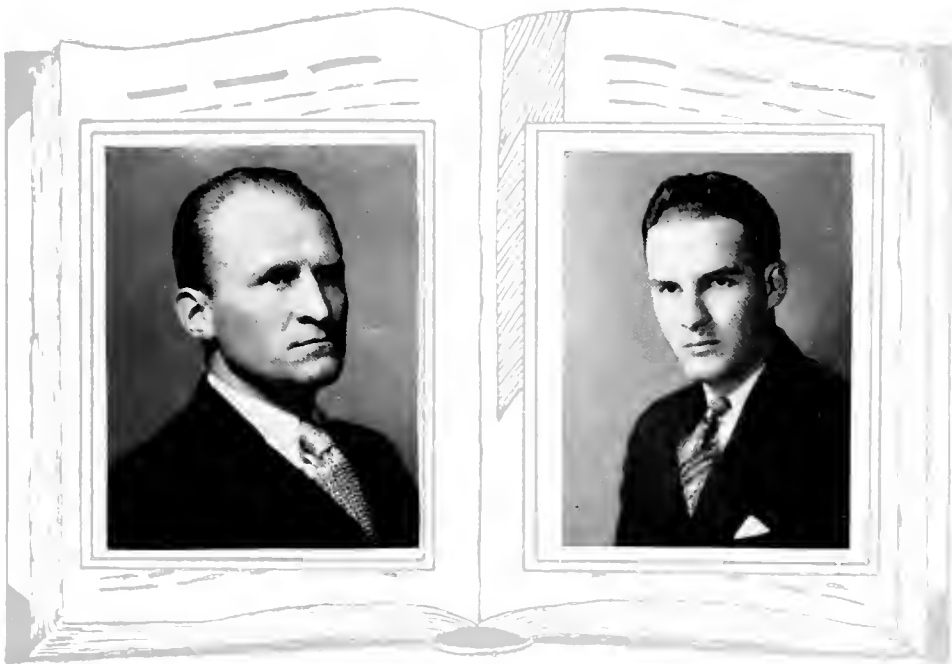

As a Freshman, Grace first manifested her activity in class affairs. Her success in helping put over the movement of pledging to S. U.'s library fund caused that movement to go over the top in the Freshman Class.

"Gracie" is quite "loquacious" at times and can say more funny things in a minute than a mathematician can jot down in an hour.

Grace mostly "chooses to run" home over the week-end and, as we are glad to mention, often takes some of us along. Those Ashland week-ends give everyone a good nature for the next month.

ARTHUR LECRONE

Dallastown, Penna.

Education Phi Mu Delta
Reade Township High School; Y. M. C. A.

We are certain that Arthur thinks S. U. is a pretty good place; because, after several years absence from the campus, he has returned to complete his course.

A student he is indeed. For proof that his lessons are always prepared, just listen to him recite. Sincerity and "big-heartedness" are two predominant characteristics. Everything that he does is done right and he is ready to do his bit for the other fellow. The word "fail" is not in his vocabulary. Right after things he goes with honest efforts, which always bring results worth crowning.

It takes a while to learn to know Arthur; but to know him is to appreciate him and one's efforts are doubly repaid.

One of his chief interests is eating, which results in a knowledge of food combinations. Quite often we hear him say, "Tell me what you eat and I'll tell you what you are."

HOWARD LUTHER LUKEHART

"What makes you so wonderful?" "I always did like you!" Yes, "Howdy," we all know you have already collected an endless number of answers to this favorite question of yours, but we suggest that you keep up the good work and some day you may be able to write a book on the subject.

"Howdy" hails from the big city of DuBois—the birthplace of many famous people, including—Tom Mix.

Howard likes "Red" no matter what color it is. It's surprising that he doesn't prefer red traffic lights when motoring, but here he has to admit the opposite.

"Herbie, Jr." is another of those students who have signed up for a course of penmanship and letter-writing—this may explain the reason for "Howdy's" coming to school a day late—it was necessary for him to register these courses before leaving the hometown. We trust your correspondence will not become too burdensome.

General Science Phi Lambda Theta
Mt. Union High School, '24; Student Council, (3); Glee Club, (3); Band, (3).

"Dick"

"Dick" decided to take up the search for knowledge with us in our Sophomore Year. Yes, it was a worthy addition to our ranks. We hadn't heard so much of Troxelville previously, but now "Dick" has helped put it on the map and we will heartily welcome any others from that "burg" if they come up to "Dick's" calibre and standard.

This young man is rather serious-minded and does not try to bring himself into the limelight. However, his retiring ways seem to emphasize his personality.

"Dick" is one of the charter members of S. U.'s Band and is quite an accomplished member of this promising organization.

"Dick" is interested in the fields of science, especially in the field of industrial chemistry.

Class Hockey, (1, 2, 3); Lanthorn Staff.

"Raya"

This "frenchy" looking co-ed is another of the Class of '30 who helps keep up a real S. U. spirit.

Gaily she goes about her work, seemingly without any cares or worries. "Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone" surely must be one of her chosen mottos. A winsome smile is always greeting others and making them feel happy and gay. When there is anything to be done, Rhea can always be counted on. She's "right on the job" and doing her very best. In athletics she takes her place with those in the lead; even though hockey games do make bumps. We all know her to love her; and pals truly say:

"The best of life, the zest of life
Is to have a pal, a jolly good pal,
A year around pal to share it."

"Jack"

A flash of brilliance, a shower of some real intellectual remarks, a friendly greeting, a dazzling smile and here's "Jack" right on the scene. In fact, he's always there. At times you would declare there are "McHugh" twins on the campus, since it is hard to imagine one person being so many places and doing so many things.

Just take a glance at the list of activities—no field is neglected, from athletics to editorships. He has been a most diligent worker for the Susquehanna.

As an aspirant to the legal profession, we can only forecast a very promising future for him.

We have read some place—"But the red-heads? Oh they are dependable." And our beloved "Ann" we have no exception to this rule, for her work is always done well. Her assistance on the Lanthorn Staff this year cannot be overestimated. "Ann" is one of those girls who should have been a boy—not a tomboy, but one of those unusual girls who prefer mathematics, chemistry, and physics to the more feminine types of subjects. Ask "Ann" anything about Latin and judging from her reply you would declare she lived in the days of Caesar.

But let us not make the mistake of supposing that "Ann" spends all her time at her books—a good share of her spare time goes toward making life pleasant for others and for herself. A friend to all and a real student—the Class of '30 salutes our "Ann."

"She more often listens than is heard, yet when she speaks, her words lead down bright avenues of thought."

If you want to know an all-around co-ed let us present Isabelle, one of the fairest of classmates. Her cheerful disposition and understanding friendship help to make her one of the most popular girls of old S. U.

She knows music. She's an athlete and a good student. Everyone loves Isabelle. We even believe our neighboring University knows what an asset she is to a school, or why would she get so many letters—written in green ink if they were not interested in her? No, Bucknell can't have her. We need her, we love her and we give her the best wishes of the entire Class of 1930. We trust her whole life will be as successful as the years she spent at college.

Here we have the official entertainer of the school. "Freddie" has given everyone a hearty laugh through his great capacity to be "funny." And when he begins telling those weird tales about Freeburg or talk in his native tongue (Pennsylvania Dutch), we all must give him our attention.

Sometimes we are quite worried about "Freddie" because we fear he is undernourished and we really think he should do something to take on weight.

Laying all jokes aside, "Freddie" is an all-around boy with lots of ambition—he is a good student too.

He says "wimmen" have no place in his life, but we would say that he will not always remain in the state of single blessedness.

We know S. U. will be proud of you some day, "Freddie."

Education

Freeburg High School; Selinsgrove High School; Franklin and Marshall College.

Here we have another one in our ranks from the metropolis of Freeburg. Guy did not embark on our ship until our Sophomore Year, having attended Franklin and Marshall Academy previously. Now that he has cast his lot with us, we think that Susquehanna will be the moulder of his destiny, unless he decides to return to the school of his first experience.

Guy fully intends to take up the ministry and we know from his characteristics that he has wisely chosen his profession.

He is generally quiet and studious though occasionally throwing aside this attitude to join in some of the fun which that jolly bunch of day-students is wont to enjoy.

Guy is a conscientious and faithful worker, and work in or out of school seems to be a pleasure to him. We know some day the world will proclaim him a successful man.

"Charlie"

Here's the boy with the permanent wave we all have gazed upon with an admiring (if not envious) eye. Even if "Charlie" does arise in the morning five minutes before time for his eight o'clock class, his curls are always in place.

Charles is one of a host who has come here to uphold the good reputation of Altoona—and he can tell you most anything about that town, especially the Pennsylvania Railroad and its operations in that famous railroad center. In order that he may keep a complete survey of the town, he returns to it quite often.

"Charlie" is quite intent this year upon keeping account of his cuts. At least, he seems to feel it his duty to visit the office quite often. Or is there some attraction in the office, we wonder.

The ambitions of this youth are high, for he intends to enter the medical profession, and we suppose the time isn't very far off when we shall hear of Dr. Myers. If the good wishes of the Class of '30 have anything to do with it he will be an outstanding member in his chosen profession.

Here we have the real artist of Susquehanna. You all remember those classy posters for the Sophomore Hop and May Day. None other than Adda was responsible for them.

This lass hails from that town of standing reputation and renown — Danville. You should hear Adda boost the old home town—especially when she knows her listener has never been there.

Her verbosity (chattering) and original humor are known to everyone on the campus. In fact, Seibert Hall would be rather solemn if Adda were not there to give it a spicy atmosphere and take her part in some heated discussion.

Yes, there is a serious side to Adda, too. Anyone who has heard her recitations in Literature knows there has been some real earnest study back of them.

Pittsburgh High School; Pre-Medical Club, (1, 2, 3); Vice-President, (3); Natural Science Club, (1, 2, 3); College Band, (3); Glee Club, (3); Art Editor, 1930 Lanthorn.

This quiet and sedate young man is none other than our boy Harry. Now "Pan" had aspirations to be a band leader, but he has given it up since he came to S. U., as he is now a member of the Glee Club.

We can attribute to Harry the honors of being one of the best-dressed men on the campus. As a student he has always enjoyed his work and from all indications we will be addressing him as Dr. Pandolfo in a few years. His chief hobby is cutting and dissecting some friendless cat. As "Pan" says, "practice makes perfect."

Of course, we cannot lose sight of the fact that Harry is one of those males who likes the fair sex. He has practiced "Campus" until she left a year ago, but now he leaves the campus quite often. It is Philly now, I believe.

Success to the future, Dr. Pandolfo.

Selinsgrove, Penna.

Education Omega Delta Sigma

Selinsgrove High School, '26; Ladies' Choral Club, (1, 2, 3); Secretary, Class of '30, (3).

Surely you know "Margy." She's the darling of the class and in fact of the whole school it seems. It's distressing to even try to enumerate her qualities for there are so many. She's quite small, with the sunniest smile ever, and a quick word of repartee for every jest.

Her musical ability is exceptional and whenever "Marg" is around one is sure to find folks dancing or grouped around the piano enjoying the latest popular song which she is sure to know and play with the jazziest air.

We are inclined to be a bit jealous because recently "Marg" has divided much of her time between us and State College—but perhaps we shouldn't tell. We'll let you guess the rest and just say that he's a lucky young man.

Let us introduce to you one of Susquehanna's intellectual giants. Frank is one of the most industrious students in our class. He never fails a recitation when called upon. "Preparedness" is his motto.

Frank was chosen to pilot the class through its eventful Junior Year. We hope that he is as successful a leader of men as he has been a leader of our class.

He is never seen on the campus after class hours. We have slight indications that he has a certain friend that accounts for that.

We are convinced by the way Frank has exhibited his abilities that he will be successful in whatever profession he may choose.

Shirley is one of the first persons you are bound to meet when you come to S. U. and she is also one of the last ones you will forget. She just has such a way about her that establishes for her a permanent place in the heart of every S. U. student. She takes life as it comes, enjoys it while it lasts and never worries about the future.

A party is always sure to be a success if Shirley is there; in fact, it is rather blank if she is not. If there are any pranks to be played in Seibert Hall the mischief can often be traced to the clever ingenuity of Shirley and her cohorts.

The Commercial Department has been the center of Shirley's academic interests. Whether she decides to be a commercial teacher or "Somebody's Stenog" we can predict for her a successful career.

Quiet and unassuming, but if you're looking for a real friend, select John. He's a pal and one who will be a "friend indeed."

We once heard that John was of Greek descent and we almost believe this statement when we see him on the track. Day after day he trains and when the season opens he is one of the first to report, and there are few that can outdo him in endurance. Another reason why we might believe John to be a Greek is his ability in Ancient History. He excels in this course and is much interested in things ancient.

John plans to enter the ministry and we know he will be a success in his quiet way.

In those pioneer Freshman days of our class, Luke became a very outstanding member—well he was elected as our first president. That smile could swing almost any election.

From his name, it might be inferred, that he is a Saint—but since such a title cannot be applied to any mortal, we can't salute him as "St. Luke." However, he is interested in the religious field and is an aspirant to the ministry. We think that profession is well chosen and one in which Luke will be one of the most adapted.

On class basketball Luke made quite a name for himself, being one of the most consistent players on a twice-champion team.

Business Administration Phi Lambda Theta

Selinsgrove High School; Junior Varsity Football, (3); Frat Basketball, (2, 3); Class Basketball, (3).

Simon's most distinguishing characteristic when he matriculated at Susquehanna as a Freshman was his obesity. He appeared to us to be of the type that one generally sees in the movies as getting all the bumps and hard knocks. However, he became deeply interested in athletics and when Coach Ullery issued his call to football men to report for training in the fall of 1928, Simon was one of the first to report, eager to try for a berth on S. U.'s "Little Crusaders." By his hard workouts every night he has been successful in reducing very much and now his fellow students are looking about for a new cognomen, his old one having become obsolete.

Simon's chief delight is making mischief. He is always "up to something" in the day-students' room, where he is wont to while away his spare time while on the campus.

This young man is quite reserved and seems so terribly bashful—to those who are not his intimate friends.

Many a co-ed has given him a flashing smile, but to no avail. However, the rumor comes to us that it is all due to the great blonde attraction back home. How about it, "Bill"?

His chief interest at Susquehanna seems to be chemistry, but in no class do we hear "Bill" saying "unprepared."

"Bill" expects to enter some phase of scientific research. His success in this line is already assured, but, "Bill," whatever you do, always remember the "women fall for men with large hands and curly hair."

Although Schrack has inferred to us that his ambition is to become a psychologist, yet we are not certain whether he will be a psychologist, public speaker, or a salesman. He has demonstrated to us his ability in salesmanship, for every Saturday you will see him start out on a day's work. We feel certain he will be successful in whatever activity he undertakes.

We feel as though we put one over on the Class of '29 when we fell heir to Isabel. We always liked her, but we were very happy to find her a member of the Class of '30.

Isabel attended S. U. in 1925-26 and 1926-27, and having completed the two-year business course she accepted a position as Dr. Diehl's secretary and assistant in the office of the Bursar.

But the call for more training was too great for this ambitious lassie and when the students gathered for the summer session of 1928, Isabel was among them. This fall she again resumed her work as a student.

We hear that Isabel likes the "City of Brotherly Love," but we are inclined to believe that it is the "frankness" of one of its residents and not the city itself of which she is so fond.

We all know this enterprising young man due to the fact that he played the stellar role in winning the championship of class basketball for two years.

You know "Sil" made a remark on a baseball trip something like this: "Pull in your neck you old sod buster." Now what we would like to know is what part of the woods Middleburg is. Oh well, it must be a good place as our class has been enriched by two real nals.

"Al" has a good reason for not letting the co-eds try to captivate him as he has a girl back home, so he says.

"Spaidy" has been employed in the teaching service for a few years, but feeling the urge that he should go up higher, he decided to complete his college course.

He makes his entrance to the campus every morning in his Ford coupe, and since he also leaves every afternoon we have not had so many opportunities to learn to know him, but we do know he is an honest and energetic worker. Charles seems to be quite proud of the old home town, and quite often feels the "Inner Urge" that he must get back to it—by foot or limousine.

"Chuck" is one of the army of Commercial students, and we expect that some day he will be one of Pittsburgh's outstanding business men.

Well, Charlie, don't forget that the Class of '30 is backing you in whatever you undertake.

GEORGE STEWART SPANGLER

Harrisburg, Penna.

Business Administration Bond and Key Harrisburg High School; Boys' Financial Secretary, (2); Class Treasurer, (3); Advertising Manager, 1920 Lanthorn.

This young man hails from the capital of our State, and for that reason is a very capital guy. Although it is generally conceded that red hair is an index of a high temper and of contrariness, "Red" seems to be an exception, in that he has never been known to be easily irritated or angered, and also in that he has always been a staunch supporter of all class and collegiate activities.

George is a business man of no mean ability, and in view of that fact his classmates elected him Boys' Financial Secretary during our Sophomore Year, and steadily climbing up the ladder of success, Class Treasurer for our Junior Year. His far-sightedness and systematic manner of doing things will help him climb high into the business world.

We wish "Red" the best life can offer, and hope some day to see him at the head of a big business firm, perhaps a corporation selling a radio contrivance used to converse with the inhabitants of Mars, especially the Martian women.

Perhaps you have heard someone inquire who that tall, pleasant brunette is who arrives on our campus every morning and also leaves us every night. Well it is none other than our Alma.

She has been with us since our Freshman days—yes, she wore the "sackcloth and the green paint," as did the rest of us. Well, those things helped to make us closer classmates, didn't they, Alma?

Until this year Alma's one big interest was on our campus, but now it has been changed to Princeton. It's the same interest, but a change of location. We would be very glad to see her a help-mate to one of our own Alumni who is now in training for the ministry. No, that commercial training won't be wasted. You know churches always need a secretary.

Faithfulness to her studies in every way is one of the many characteristics that play a part in making her a real student.

Did you ask if she is pleasant? I should say—a smile always goes with her greetings. As her loyalty and sincerity, they are right there and always find expression at the proper time. Very unassuming, but ready to do her bit in any way she can are traits for admiration also.

Many do not know her as well as they would like to because she lives just a few miles away, and the trolley never misses her. Nevertheless, we learn to love her as we know her.

The best wishes of the class for continued success in the music world goes with you, Edna.

"Sue"

If we were to mention the mere fact that "Sue" was Editor-in-Chief of our Lanthorn, it should be sufficient testimony to her ability, for without her ingenuity and untiring efforts our annual would not have been nearly as successful as it has been.

She has proved herself a very capable and talented young woman in all her work at Susquehanna, but she shines chiefly in nature study, and literature, being an "A" student in these courses. She is likewise a debater of no mean ability, having served on the Debating Squad ever since her matriculation, always emerging from a forensic contest with honors.

Can you resist the temptation to look into those sparkling eyes? Well, if you can you're the first person. Yes, those curls surely are pretty, and they're natural too.

"Polly" has been active in every phase of school life. Here are a few instances: she has been an able member of the debating team, one of the associate editors of the Lanthorn and an enthusiastic Y. W. C. A. worker.

Wilma is quite fond of music—her favorite song being "Danny Boy." We also think she would be a good cook, especially when it comes to baking "Graham" bread.

Never do we see her sad, she casts a glow on gloomy days with her laughing and larking. Her alertness and capability make her a valuable asset and worthwhile friend. If that isn't enough just add she's always ready for a good time.

Betty also helped to share that famous "Wrigley's" one (date) after every meal. But then her attentions are not entirely confined to this one because all receive a cheery word from Betty, the peppy little crusader of the Class of '30.

"Dinny"

Now here is the "Czar of Sleepy Hollow." You see "Dinny" couldn't be anything but a real classmate. His everlasting smile has won him a host of friends at Susquehanna University.

He loves the girls and he will admit it, but he will say that you can only love one at a time and he has found that ONE here in Seibert Hall. Dinny has the record of having the most dates on the campus in one week. Some one has dubbed him "Wrigley"—one after every meal.

This young man is one of those fellows who tries his hand at everything. He has won his spurs in football and baseball, also being a member of the varsity squad in basketball.

It is without a doubt that our "Dinny" will succeed as he has the pep, power and determination.

"Who'er excels in what we prize, Appears a hero in our eyes."

This big, husky-looking lad comes to us from Massachusetts. We often wonder whatever influenced him to travel all that distance to come to Susquehanna but he says he's not sorry and we certainly are happy to have him on the good ship, '30.

"Zak" has been playing football every year and with a measure of success which this year put him in some of the important games of the season. He surely has the fighting spirit and we expect to see him among the first team our Senior year.

Yes, Zak is there when it comes to classes also. Do you know where you will find him? Always in the last seat in the last row. Oh! no! he's not one who seeks a back seat but his name begins with the last letter in the alphabet and so his seat is naturally reserved. However, the fact that he is last has no marked effect upon him for Zak is usually on deck.

"And the muscles of his brawny arms
Are strong as iron bands."

Here we have a brunette lassie who is one of our day students.

She has not only discovered that her talent lies in music but she is developing it with marked success. We take our proof from what we have heard her bring from the organ.

Her friendliness and sweetness are constant and ever-present. She is quiet in a way that tends to stress her individuality.

We know she will have her name in the music hall of fame and we, the class of '30, extend our best wishes.

"Music the great good that mortals know,
And all of heaven we have on earth."

"Ambition" personified is this young man, who hails from the nearby city of Sunbury—a place we have all learned to know since we came to Susquehanna.

Sidney has always been a day student traveling each day to Selinsgrove by street car. But we hear that there is a big attraction for him in Sunbury and this may account for him having never honored the campus with his residence.

He has worked his way through college by handling various positions and in the way has gained a wealth of knowledge and experience which cannot easily be estimated.

His record as a student is one of which he can well be proud and the gateway to success opens wide to him.

THIRST for intellectual knowledge is a desire of the ambitious; satiation of this faculty is an achievement arrayed in its own category. In this field is reaped the harvest of success by the persistent few, who can weather the most dire storms in pursuit of this noble quest, with thoughts heedless of discouragement and despair, save as a stepping-stone for higher things.

We, the Class of '31, when we had enrolled at Susquehanna on the beautiful day in the early Fall of '27, little were we aware, of the awaiting opportunities, the hazards and the new environmental conditions, with which we had to cope. The word "Freshman" held no meaning to us, but it was but a short while later that in gallant display the full significance was revealed to us. The Sophomores very generously enlightened and aided us to establish this fact.

As yearlings, we had proved our leadership in attaining and upholding the traditional customs and the high ideals of our Alma Mater. From a successful Get-Away to the Inter-Class Baseball Championship, the victory over the Sophomores in the annual Football contest, the successful "tug-of-war," displayed our profound enthusiasm in extra-curricular activities, including the interest shown in Debating and in musical organizations.

The successful accomplishments of the initial year were due largely to the competency of our official class leaders, who were wisely chosen to lead the class on to victory. The following were the officers elected: Russell N. Carmichael, President; Agnes McMullen, Vice-President; Lois Brungart, Secretary; R. Haslett Munn, Jr., Treasurer; John P. Senko, Historian.

With persistent aim and firm determination to make our goals a reality, we appeared again as superior and triumphant Sophomores, or Wise-Fools, resuming our educational preparations. And with enthusiastic superiority supplanting the sword by the pen, we as a class worked faithfully to guide, and set a new criterion for the newer generation, the Coy Freshmen, bringing them to a realization of the responsibilities, the necessities and obligations for character and morals essential in becoming true and worthy upperclassmen. Our success in that channel was amply achieved.

Although we, by a narrow margin, had submitted our authoritative claim of the gridiron to the Freshmen, nevertheless had proved ourselves worthy of honor and esteem in the fact that we had a representation of five lettermen on the Varsity Football Team, the honor of taking the Interclass Soccer and Co-ed's Interclass Hockey trophies.

Soon, the burdens and responsibilities of the Juniors will rest upon us, and it is we, the Class of '31 who shall be placed upon our own merits, to bear those obligations as we have borne the responsibilities of the previous years. When we enter the various professions of life, to make suitable application of the intellectual and educational knowledge acquired in reaping a harvest of success.

HERE was excitement in the borough of Selinsgrove. When? On September 18, 1928. Why? Because, on that date from far and near one hundred and thirty-two of those indefinable creatures called "Freshman." Very special Freshmen were these for they were members of the Class of '32.

And the excitement continued. Shortly after the appearance of the Class of '32 a "get-away" was staged. The Freshmen easily overcame the Sophomores, who were pursuing them and journey to Rolling Green Park. Here a marshmallow and weiner roast was held and a general "get acquainted" time took place. The following officers were elected: President, Jack Auchmuty; Vice-President, Edward Helwig; Secretary, Etta Mumaw; Treasurer, Reed Speer.

The Sophs willingly helped the Class of '32 to find their place. Consequently, the Frosh fellows and girls could easily be identified wherever they went by their orange and maroon dinks and arm-bands. Very proud were they indeed to so display the colors of their Alma Mater.

The Frosh made their debut into Society November 3, when they held a party for the upperclassmen and faculty members. Their next appearance socially was the informal Freshman dance on the evening of Alumni Day. Something new was here introduced for the affair was characterized by a scarcity of girls and a long stag line.

The Freshmen excelled in athletics. Although the Sophomores won the Inter-class Soccer match, the Freshmen were right there on Home-Coming Day and defeated the Sophs on the Gridiron 2-0, receiving as a reward freedom from rules for the remainder of the week-end.

The Freshmen were well represented in all the extra-curricular activities of the college. The Freshmen had a large number of representatives on the Football, Basketball and Baseball teams, several having received letters. Many of the members of the Choral Club, Glee Club, Orchestra and Band were members of the Class of '32.

It can safely be said that the Class of '32 has caught the spirit of Susquehanna and is willing to do anything for her. They recognize the high ideals for which she stands and are more than willing to carry out her traditions.

OLD S. U.

This world seems filled with many schools,
Each school seems full of people.
Each person aiming for the top
Of some high point or steeple.
Some pass the "Grades" and thru the "High."
Then seem content to stop—
But give me Susquehanna's halls
Where schedules make one hop.

CHORUS

For it is S. U.—S. U. S. Q. U.
E. H. A. N. N. A.—our boon
She treats us royal. To her be loyal
And wear the Orange and Maroon.
For it is S. U.—S. U. S. Q. U.
E. H. A. N. N. A.—we'll praise
With colors flying. The world defying.
To old S. U.—our song we'll raise.

And on our field we like clean sport.
In Football and Baseball battle.
In Basketball we'll keep our heads
Though other teams may rattle.
And when our clubs would represent
Old S. U. in Debate
Or in some concertizing stunt
We try to be sedate.

SUSQUEHANNA was able to enjoy the most successful football season in many a year, winning four out of seven games. This was due to two factors—a good team and a good coach.

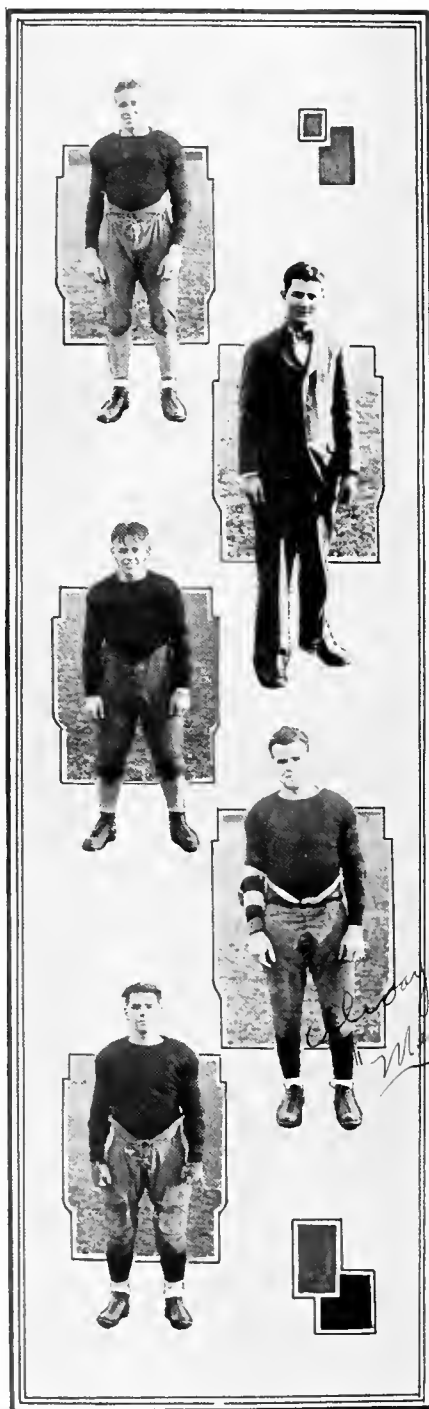

The largest squad in the history of football at Susquehanna reported for practice when Coach William Ullery issued his first call. About half a hundred reported for the first practice. Few men dropped out along the way until after the final whistle was blown at the close of the Gallaudet game. This shows that the squad was made up entirely of fighters and men determined to win.

Because the backfield was considerably weakened by the loss of several important men before the formal opening of the season, the "Little Crusaders" could not get started and made a poor showing against the first three teams they met. They gave little opposition to the Georgetown team, which was one of the best that university ever produced. When they encountered Drexel, the Engineers scored almost at will, the Ullery men being unable to stop their flashy overhead barrage and crushing ground attack. In the fray with Swarthmore, Susquehanna led at half time, 7-0, but was overwhelmed by a last-half rally by the Garnets. However, the team found itself in the Upsala fray, playing a brilliant and baffling air game and thus tasted victory for the first time in the season. The P. M. C. game, played in a drizzle, was very spectacular, featuring long runs. This was the first time since athletic relations with the Chester team were opened that the Cadets were forced to take the tail end of a football score. The most crucial game of the season was the one played on Home-Coming Day against Juniata, before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a football game on University Field. It was the Little Crusader's greatest triumph, and their sixth consecutive victory over the Indians. The season was closed with a brilliant victory over Gallaudet, which was featured by spectacular dashes for touchdowns.

For the first time, the Jay Vees played a regular schedule. While they were not so successful as the Varsity, yet a beginning has been made in giving more men an opportunity to play football. They met Dickinson Seminary, Sunbury High, Mansfield Normal, and others.

Considerable credit is due Coach Ullery for the fine team which he built out of the material at hand. Prof. Ullery is a graduate of Penn State, where he was a football, basketball and baseball star, particularly the latter. He came to us from Beckley College, where he coached for several years. He was a newcomer to our campus and an exponent of a type of football entirely different from the type in use by his predecessor. Despite this handicap, he piloted the Little Crusaders through a troublesome beginning, coming out brilliantly and spectacularly at the close. His success is due no doubt to his winning personality, his keen football sense, and his ability of leadership. He proved himself to be a real coach, a real sport, and a real man.

WALL

Captain Wall played a brilliant game at quarterback. He had the heavy task of keeping up the morale of his men, barking signals, and placement kicking. He accomplished them all in a most commendable manner. His most outstanding feat during the season was his sensational interception of a forward pass, in the Juniata game, followed by a fifty-five-yard run for a touchdown.

HOOVER

Into Paul's hands was placed the difficult task of taking care of the business end of the football season. He proved himself very efficient in arranging trips, in caring for equipment, and any other duties incident to the position of football manager. He is to be commended for the efficient way in which he fulfilled his duties.

SCOTT

Scott held down the position of half-back in a very commendable manner. His long end runs and receiving of forward passes featured every game in which he played. He was the best and hardest tackler in the Georgetown game, where time after time he was the only man between the ball-carrier and the goal line, and he rarely failed to get his man. We are expecting even bigger things of him next year.

MACDONALD

"Mac" rising from the ranks of the reserves, played a very excellent game as fullback. He featured mainly in crashing through the line. He could always be depended upon to make a substantial gain when called upon to carry the ball. Time and again he knifed through the opponent's line for a first down and thus in a great measure, he boosted the "Crusaders" to victory. He will surely come through again next year.

AUCHMUTY

Auchmuty was one of the few first year men to win the coveted varsity "S". He came to us from one of our best military schools. He proved to be a man of great strength on the line, where he played guard. He played in every game during the season. He starred as a line crasher and often broke through to throw the opponent for a loss. We hope that he will continue his steady and consistent fighting next year.

MEANS

Danny Means who served as Captain of the Little Crusaders in 1926, again played a brilliant game for Susquehanna, this time at end. He played a spectacular game on defense, and could be depended upon to break up plays which came his way. This is Danny's last year of football and he will certainly be missed.

SPROUT

Sprout looked very promising early in the season, but an injury to his ankle which he suffered in a practice game before the opening of the season forced him to leave the squad for the remainder of the season. He has two years more at college and shall prove of inestimable value to next year's backfield.

ZAK

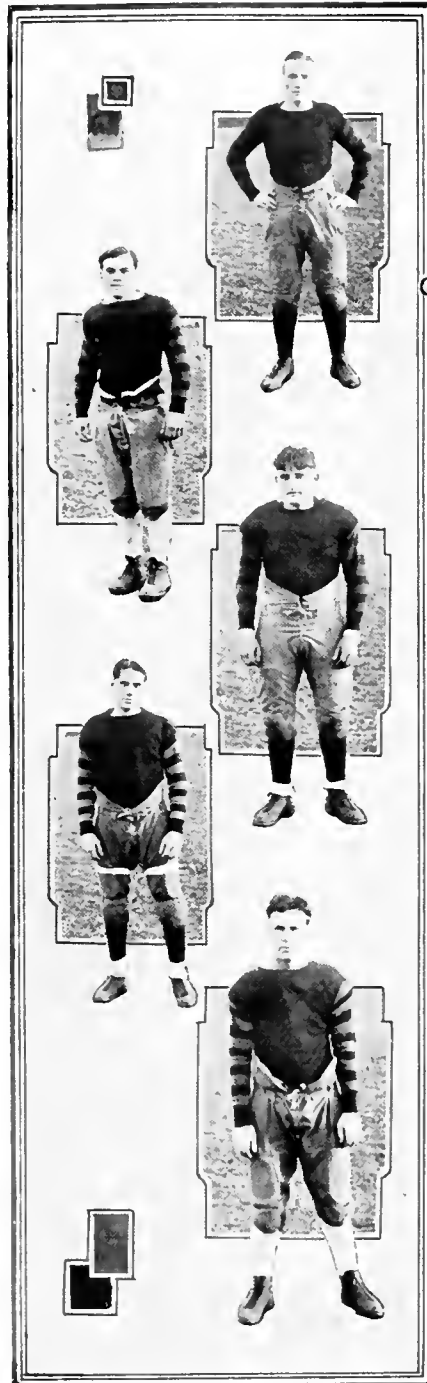

Although Zak, the big onion man from Massachusetts, who played at tackle, did not receive a letter, he was awarded numerals which shows that he was of some worth to the varsity. He was injured in the Juniata game and could not play the rest of the season. In games in which he participated he always played a stellar game. Joe will no doubt prove very valuable to next year's squad.

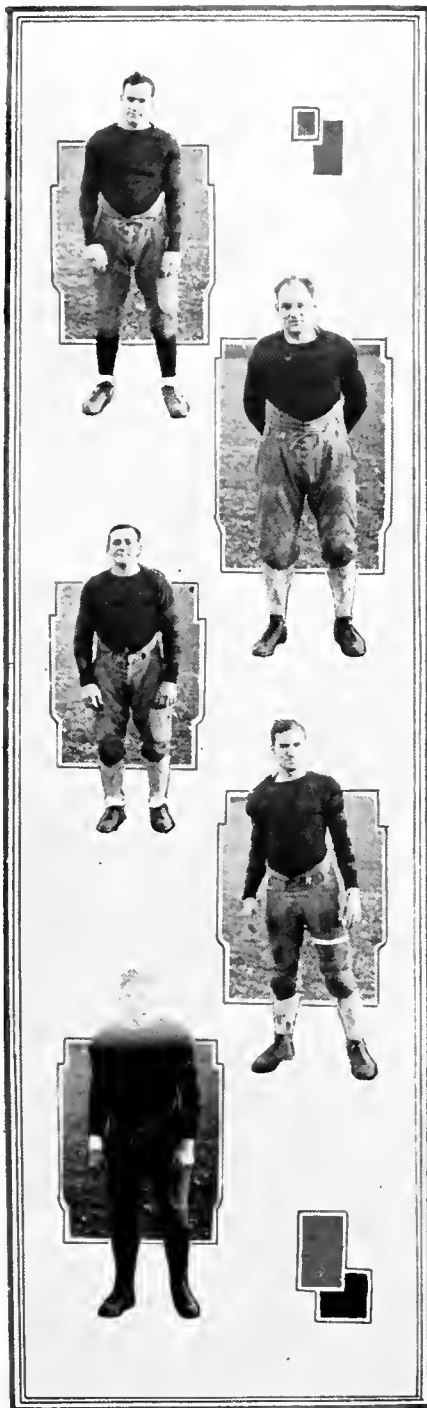

SPEER

Speer, a Freshman, and a former Crafton High star, played a wonderful game in the backfield. His achievement was mainly as a result of his ability to run in the open field. He made many gains for Susquehanna by such runs. We feel safe in making the assertion that Speer is bound to come through and prove himself of great worth to our team next year.

HUDKINS

"Ace" is another of those men who was shifted from reserve to varsity ranks and who made good. He played a bang-up game as tackle and proved a valuable asset to the line. He played hard and consistently at all times. He has two more years in which to exercise that line-crashing drive which has made him famous and will certainly prove his real worth then.

WORMLEY

"Dinny" began the season at end but was shifted to halfback where he played a stellar game. He was a good thrower and receiver of forward passes, making substantial gains for Susquehanna in that manner. In his final year at college, "Dinny" may be counted on to play a bang-up game next year.

R. GARMAN

"Rip" after a brief leave from school, returned to the campus again this year and proved a football man of real merit. First he featured as fullback on the reserves, and then in mid-season he was transferred to guard on the varsity, where he and his brother, side by side, broke up many plays. We feel sure that "Rip" will be a great asset to next year's squad.

BRUNOZZI

Brunozzi, although short and stocky, played a whale of a game throughout the entire season at tackle, on both the offensive and defensive plays. He proved one of Susquehanna's most outstanding players. Time and again he plunged through to throw the opponents for a loss, or to assist his team in making a substantial gain. This dauntless fighter will be sorely missed next season.

A. GARMAN

"Al" Garman played a bang-up game at the pivot position and his passes were always perfect. He played in every game, which should speak sufficiently for him. On the defense he succeeded in crashing through and breaking up plays. He was one of the most dependable men on the line. He is only a Sophomore and much can be expected of him in the next two years.

BERGER

Berger played at both center and guard, playing good games at both positions. Injury also forced him out of the game, but we hope that it is not of a permanent nature, so that he may be available to next year's squad.

R. WOLFE

This one of the famous Wolfe brothers is a Senior and has seen his last year of service to Susquehanna as a football player. He played chiefly at end, and could be depended upon to give his all when called upon. While not an outstanding player on the squad, he must be given credit for his spirit of "stick-to-it-iveness" during his four years at college, and we feel sure that if he carries the same spirit through life he is bound to make good.

BARBER

Early in the season, Barber was shifted from the scrub team to the varsity squad. He played a good game at end in every game in which he participated. He has two more years in college and we are sure he will make a strong bid for the varsity again next year.

MALASKY

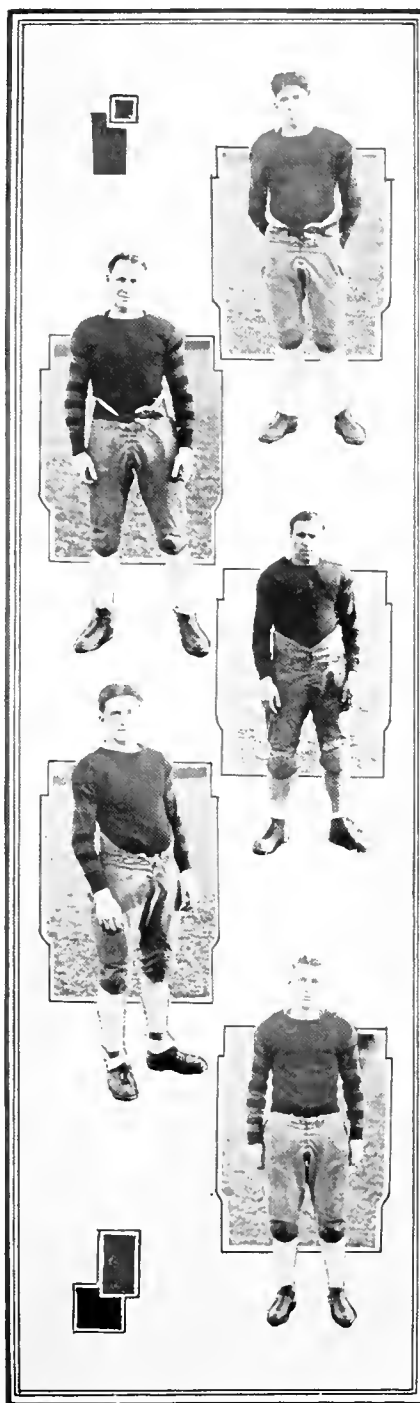

This young man from Sandy Township played his first year of football at Susquehanna, and held down the position of full-back. He proved one of the best men in the backfield and was a welcome addition to that part of the team when several strong men were lost through injury. He was a hard worker and a consistent player. He starred in the Upsala game. We feel sure that he can be relied upon during his remaining three years in college.

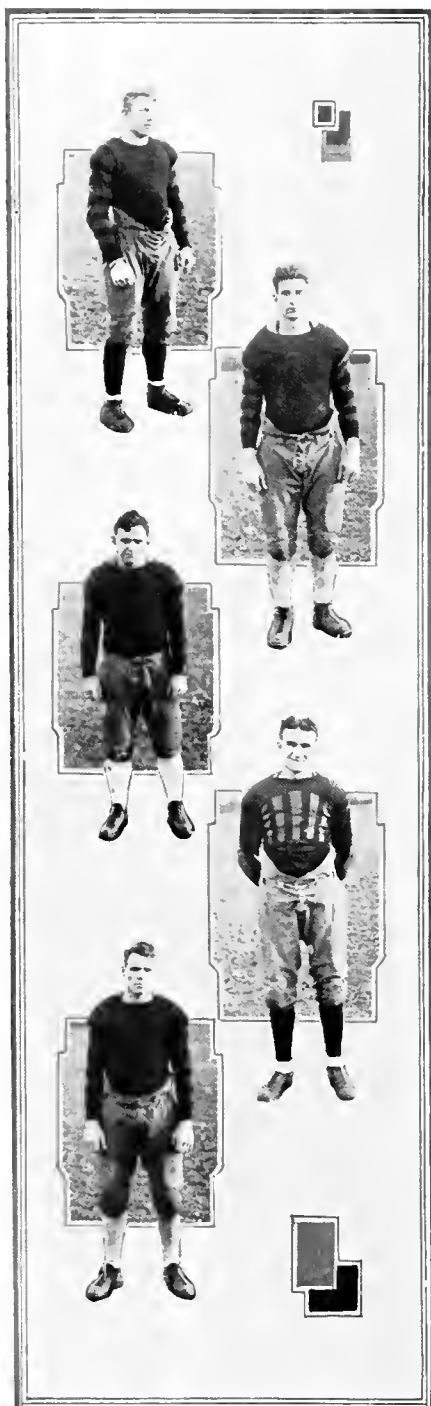

W. WOLFE

This young man hails from Sunbury High, and is one of the famous Wolfe brothers. He played a commendable game at end, but was forced to the bench because of injuries. It is our fondest hope that Warren will "come through" next year and show us that he has real football stuff in him; and that he will win for himself a permanent berth on the Little Crusaders.

JOHNSTON

Cliff, the "kid" from Altoona, played quarterback on the junior varsity. He gave the best he had by way of football brawn and brain, in every game in which he participated. He is bound to come through next year and be a valuable asset to the squad.

CARMICHAEL

"Carp" played a stellar game at guard. He was captain of the Johnstown High team during his Senior year at that school. He proved that height does not count everything in football. He assisted in breaking up many plays and gave his all to boost the Little Crusaders on to victory. He has two more years at college, during which he will prove of great value to the squad.

WINTERS

"Big Joe" as he is popularly known by his teammates, was the biggest man on the team. He was a tower of strength on the line, where he played the position of tackle in a very commendable manner. He helped to break up innumerable plays on the defense, and cleared the way for many a gain by a Susquehanna back through the line. He proved a great asset to the line, and we are looking forward to even greater things from him in the next two years.

THENS

Thens is only a small man, but he proved of inestimable worth to the squad as half-back and at calling signals. He, like a number of other promising men, was forced out of the games by injury, but we trust that he may be able to prove his real ability as a player next year.

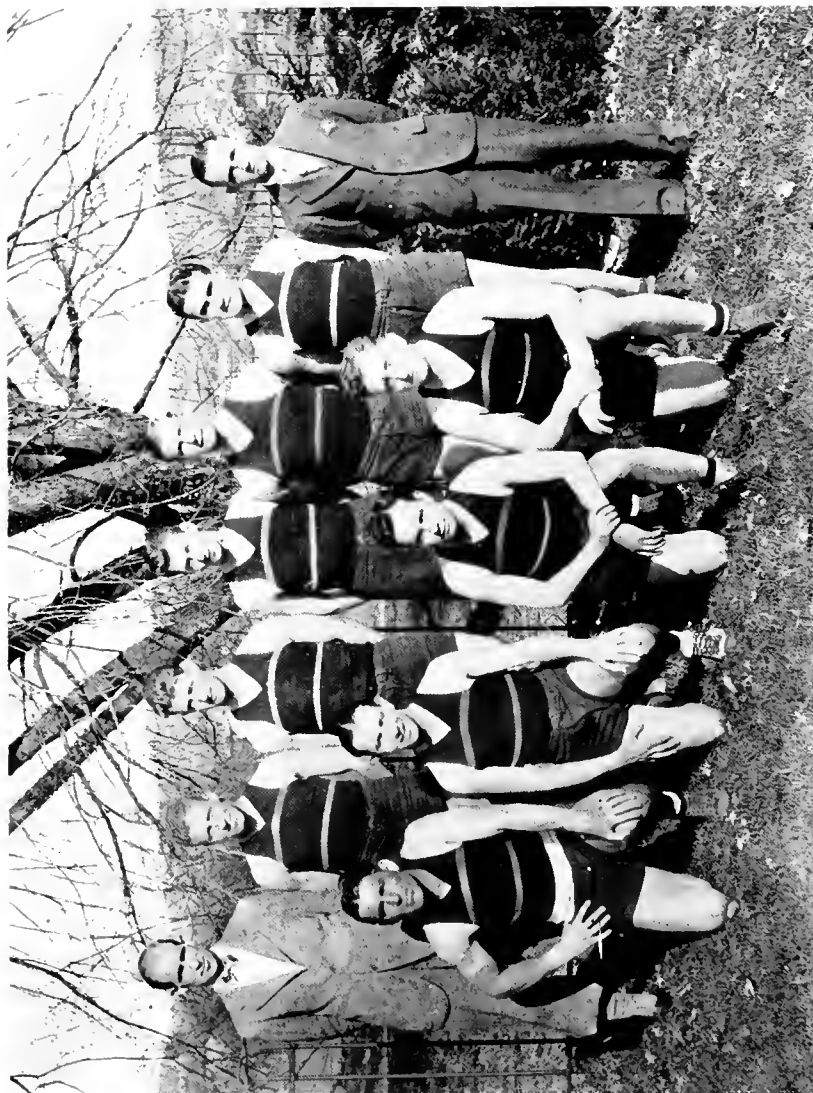

DELAY

Jack, a former Tamaqua High athlete, played an excellent game at end. He distinguished himself as being a hard fighter and a good receiver of forward passes. He always could be depended upon to stop any plays which came around his end, and very little ground was gained by the opposition in such plays. We are looking for big things from him in his last year of college football next year.

SCHROCK

Schrock, a former Johnstown High star, proved to be a valuable asset to the backfield. He was a very fast open field runner. His tricky, corkscrewing sidestep caused him to get away for big gains. He has the makings of a real football star, and we anticipate great things from him next year.

BASKETBALL REVIEW 1928

DESPITE the fact that practically the whole basketball squad of the 1927 season remained intact and that the same coach was whipping it into shape, the Little Crusaders could not get started and lost every game save the last. Nevertheless, most of the games proved most interesting and exciting, with many of the opponents emerging victorious by a margin which could not be boasted of.

The team was captained by Thomas Dixon, who played at center in consistent form throughout the entire season. Wall, Spaid, Moser, and Winters played at guard interchangeably, while Wormley, Gearhart, Smaltz, DeLay, and Haney did their bits at forward. The business end of the season was handled by John Auten, '28. The coaching and training were done by Raymond C. Morgan.

The team proved a consistent one, with few men shining as exceptional stars. Team work was noticeable throughout the season, with excellent passing featuring.

After losing every game throughout the entire season, P. M. C. was met in Alumni Gym and set back to the tune of a 42-20 score in a spectacular and thrilling game.

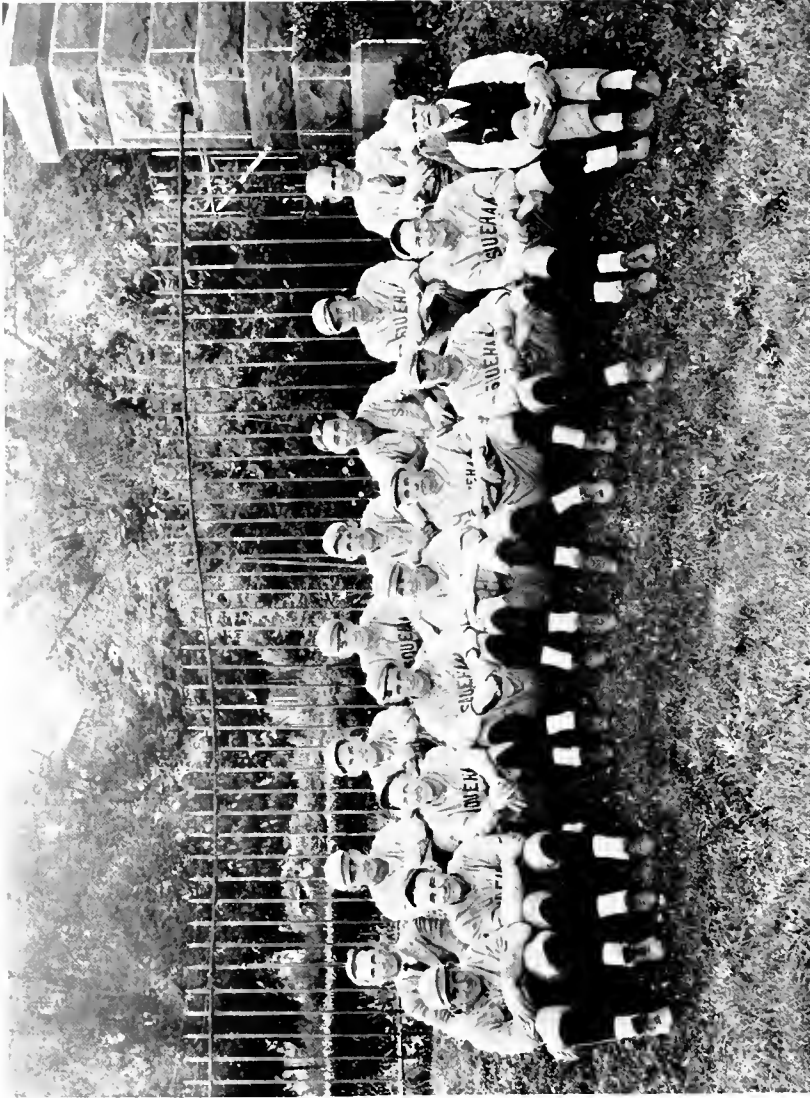

With only two men being lost by graduation, Susquehanna's boosters may well look forward to a winning aggregation in the 1929 season, which will be coached by Prof. Ullery, captained by John Wall, '30, and managed by William Riden, '29.

BASEBALL REVIEW 1928

DURING the past few years baseball has been eliminated by an increasing number of colleges as a major collegiate sport. Not so at Susquehanna, for the game which has become the pastime par excellence of the American people still retains its popularity among the students and the authorities of Susquehanna University. Financially, the sport about supported itself, only a very small deficit being reported.

Coach Morgan and Captain Wilfred Groce did their best to build a winning aggregation out of the material which reported for training and practice when Susquehanna's baseball mentor issued his first call. Most of the material had seen service in previous years. Back of the batter was seen the Little Crusaders' most famous catching ace, "Hooly," Baird, who was captain of the 1927 aggregation. "Tubby" Moser also saw service as a catcher and did excellent work. On the mound, Donnell, Shilling, Groce, Bingaman, and Haney saw service, with the first two doing the most of the pitching. Donnell pitched a swift, baffling, curved ball, while Shilling perplexed his opponents with a slow-moving ball. Captain Groce held down first most of the season. Good did exceptionally well at second, while Livingston and Bachman shared honors at third. Herman and Wormley starred at shortstop. In the outfield were Moyer, Cameron, and Bingaman during most of the games. Other men who saw service on the varsity squad were: Auten, Thens, and Snyder. Robert Baird was manager.

Batting honors went to D. Baird, with an average of .423. Bachman was second, with .359, while close on his heels were Capt. Groce, with .357, and Herman, with .350.

The first two games were scheduled with Juniata and Villanova, but were cancelled because of rain. The first game was played against Juniata on the home diamond, with the Little Crusaders emerging from a hotly contested battle, 2-1. This was quickly followed by a victory over Ursinus, 8-7. In the next four games Susquehanna was forced to taste the bitter dregs of defeat in games against Lebanon Valley, both away and at home; Swarthmore, away, and Drexel, away. The season was closed with a spectacular victory over Drexel, on the home field, 7-4. The classic Alumni game was called on account of inclement rain.

The 1929 aggregation will be captained by Russell Shilling of Reedsville, and will be coached by Coach Ullery.

TRACK REVIEW 1928

SUSQUEHANNA'S field and track season began with the Annual Interclass Track and Field Meet, held in Alumni Gymnasium, and won by the Class of 1930 by a narrow margin over the Class of 1931. The next events were the Interclass Outdoor Meet for the Harmon Trophy. Both trophies were won by the Class of 1930.

The Varsity opened its season by participating in the Penn Relays at Philadelphia. Susquehanna won third place in its class, which included Manhattan, Franklin and Marshall, and others. Wall, Urban, Knouse, and Scott ran for Susquehanna.

The next meet was held on University Field, in which the Little Crusaders and Washington College tied for honors. The Maryland institution produced an excellent team and easily defeated Susquehanna by a 77-49 score. The home team took only a few first places in this meet. Scott took first in the 440-yard dash, Chesley placed first in the pole vault; Wall tied in the high jump, and Sheeler threw the discus 103 feet 4 inches.

The following week the team journeyed to Bucknell, where it participated in the Central Pennsylvania Conference, and succeeded in getting fourth place in Class B, which included Schuylkill, Ursinus, Juniata, and Lebanon Valley.

Drexel easily defeated the Crusaders in their meet at Philadelphia by the overwhelming score, 94-29. The Engineers took all but two first places. Ide took first in the 100-yard high hurdles, and Smith took first in the 220-yard low hurdles.

The season was brought to a close with a meet with Juniata College at Huntingdon. Sheeler's supporters were again forced to bow down in defeat by an 86-40 score. Knouse won the spectacular and hotly contested 440-yard dash in 52.6 minutes. Showalter did fine work in the two-mile race, placing second. He was also second in the mile race. Scott won the 880-yard dash in two minutes, five seconds. He also did the broad jump twenty feet one inch. Chesley gave Holsinger a run for his money in the pole vault.

The Snyder County High School Meet and the Anthracite Meet were held on the University Field and drew large crowds to Susquehanna.

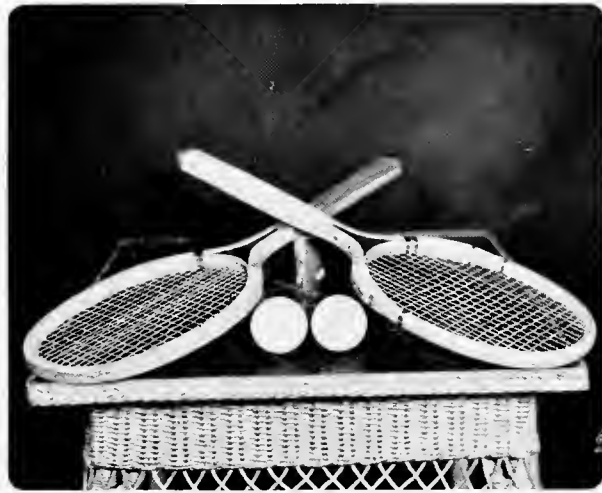

The 1928 Track and Field Squad was captained by Ray Sheeler, '28, managed by Fred Sleigle, '28, and coached by Luther D. Grossman.

The 1929 squad will be captained by Chesley, '29, and coached by Professor Grossman.

INAUGURATION DAY

November 23, 1928

ONE of the most outstanding events of the entire college year was the inauguration of George Morris Smith as President of the University, to succeed Dr. Charles T. Aikens, who passed away a little over a year ago.

The academic procession, led by the student band under the direction of Professor Elrose E. Allison, marched from Selinsgrove Hall to the Chapel at Seibert Hall, where they were greeted by a large number of friends and Alumni. The inaugural exercises took place in Seibert Chapel Hall, with Dr. Levi P. Young, President of the Board of Directors as chairman. The speakers were: Paul Hoover of Johnstown, for the undergraduates; Rev. John B. Kinseley of Northumberland, President of the Alumni Association, for the Alumni; Dr. John I. Woodruff, thirty-seven years a faculty member and at one time acting president, for the faculty; and Dr. Henry Hanson, President of Gettysburg College, for the Honorable Delegates.

President Smith was inducted into office by Dr. Young. Following his induction the new chief executive delivered his inaugural address in which he advocated a policy of concentration for Susquehanna. He pledged that his policy would be directed along lines that the institution should become an outstanding small seat of learning rather than a large institution, where so many courses would be offered that distinction might not be attained in any of them.

By far the largest group of distinguished educators ever to assemble on Susquehanna's campus came on November 23, to join with friends, students and Alumni in the inauguration of President G. Morris Smith. Among the colleges and universities represented were: Harvard University, Yale University, University of Pennsylvania, Princeton University, Columbia University, Dickinson College, Franklin and Marshall College, Alleghany College, Kenyon College, Gettysburg Lutheran Theological School, Gettysburg Academy, New York University, Gettysburg College, Wittenburg College, Bucknell University, Carthage College, Blair Academy, Roanoke College, Westminster College, Pennsylvania State College, Irving College, Albright College, Mt. Airy Seminary, Swarthmore College, Lehigh University, Lebanon Valley College, Muhlenburg College, Cedar Crest College, Ursinus College, Syracuse University, Thiel College, Juniata College, Johns Hopkins University, Wagner College, Temple University, Chicago University, Hamma Divinity School, Drexel Institute, Mercersburg Academy, Schuylkill College, Carnegie Institute, and Hartwick Seminary.

Following the inaugural exercises dinner was served in Horton Dining Hall. This meeting was in charge of the Alumni Association and it was at that time that cordial greetings were extended to the newly elected president by many of his co-workers in the educational field. At the gathering Dr. Charles J. Smith, President of Roanoke College, Salem, Va., and brother of the guest of honor of the day, gave a short talk.

In the afternoon Mrs. Smith was the guest of honor at a tea, which was sponsored by the Women's Faculty Club of the University.

The day's activities came to a close with the formal reception given in honor of President and Mrs. Smith. The occasion was a fitting climax to a day of such brilliance and distinction as Susquehanna University has ever known.

MALE STUDENT COUNCIL

GEORGE BEAM, President

MILLARD C. SMITH, Vice-President

HAROLD N. MOLDENKE, Secretary

HARRY J. LUPFER, Treasurer

The Men's Student Council of Susquehanna University was organized in the year 1924, through the efforts of Dr. H. N. Follmer. The first president was Harner Middleswarth of Yeagertown, the second Clarence Derr of Hughesville, the third Lester L. Lutz of Mt. Union, and the fourth Paul B. Lucas, of Baltimore, Md.

The purposes of the Student Council according to its constitution are as follows: (1) To inculcate and foster such campus traditions as will secure the loyalty of the student body and Alumni and the respect of friends; (2) to promote a cultural and Christian atmosphere about the college; (3) to cultivate college friendships rather than to conduct an inquisition; (4) to guard the good name and extend the influence of Susquehanna University, and (5) to supervise and regulate student activities and conduct.

The Student Council is the representative body elected by the Men's Student Government Association, to which all undergraduate male members who are in good standing belong. It is composed of representatives of every large group of men on the campus and according to its constitution is given power to administer any punishment up to and including suspension to miscreants.

It is the only group of students to which any student problem may be presented for intelligent and unbiased judgment and in the final authority, under the faculty, on all questions relating to student activity and conduct.

Women's Student Government was established on Susquehanna's campus October 25, 1925. Miss Barbara DeReemer, the first president, was the real instigator in bringing about this organization which has proved to be a great step forward, toward bettering the living conditions in Seibert Hall and furthering the advancement of the welfare of the college in general. The next president was Miss Marian Pounder, who guided the Council through a most successful year. Following her, Miss Essex Botsford, who enjoyed an equally successful year. This year, under Miss Rebecca Foster, great things have already been accomplished.

Miss Naomi K. Hade, Dean of Women, who came to Susquehanna during the second year of Co-operative Council's existence, has done much to perfect this system of government. It is hoped, however, by contact with similar and more mature governments in other colleges and universities, our local government will continue to improve, not only its own cause but the general standing and welfare of the college itself.

This body was first organized in 1927-28 in order to create and maintain a more friendly relationship among the fraternities by a fair and honest consideration of the many problems which confront fraternity men as a group.

The membership is made up of eight men, two representatives from each fraternity.

Certain regulations regarding rushing and bidding are taken care of by this organization. The installation of a preferential bidding system was one of their first and most noteworthy achievements.

This group is similar to the Inter-Fraternity Council in aim and in composition. The Inter-Sorority Council has been in existence for many years and through it a more congenial relationship is maintained among the sororities.

The membership is made up of nine women, three representing each sorority. The presidents and vice-presidents automatically become members and each group sends another representative, chosen by election.

This year practically all sorority affairs have been of an inter-sorority type, thus increasing the spirit of co-operation.

THE SUSQUEHANNA, the campus weekly, was first published in 1894. The past year a great many new ideas have been introduced and the paper generally has shown a decided improvement.

The Editorial Staff is composed of members from each class, exclusive of the Freshmen, and the editor-in-chief is chosen each year by a process of elimination. The editorship is a position which requires a great deal of experience and journalistic ability.

The first LANTHORN was published by the Class of '98 and since that time each Junior Class has endeavored to publish a book which will equal or surpass the one put out by the preceding class. The three major positions (editor-in-chief, business manager, and art editor) are chosen by the class at an election held in the latter half of the Sophomore year. The staff begins its work immediately and with the opening of school the next fall, the remainder of the staff are chosen and the real work of setting up the book begins.

We must not think, however, that the editorial staff does all the labor, for back of every page and every drawing in the book there must be the financial support, made possible through an efficient business staff.

Through the untiring efforts of Mr. Kiracofe, in addition to the work accomplished by the business staff of the 1929 Lanthorn, the collection of subscription fees and class assessments were taken care of through the office on registration day. In addition to this, several hundred dollars' worth of advertising was solicited to finance the book.

This year marks the fourth consecutive appearance of THE STUDENT HANDBOOK. Its appearance as a college publication was inaugurated four years ago by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., primarily to aid Freshmen to familiarize themselves with their new life at Susquehanna.

The book contains information concerning the various departments of the college, the buildings of the campus, the constitution and by-laws of the organizations and various matters of interest which makes it indispensable, not only to Freshmen but also to upperclassmen.

Since its first issue THE HANDBOOK has been much enlarged and altered, until it is no longer an experiment but an established reality on the campus.

STAR COURSE

The program of concerts and lectures which the students and patrons of the University were permitted to enjoy during the past months was unusually fine. The following numbers were included:

October 23—Drinkwater's "ABRAHAM LINCOLN."

November 21—"POLITICS AND POLITICIANS"; Mrs. Nellie Taylor Rose, First Woman Governor in America.

December 13—MISS AGNES DAVIS, Soprano; MR. WILBUR EVANS, Bass-Baritone.

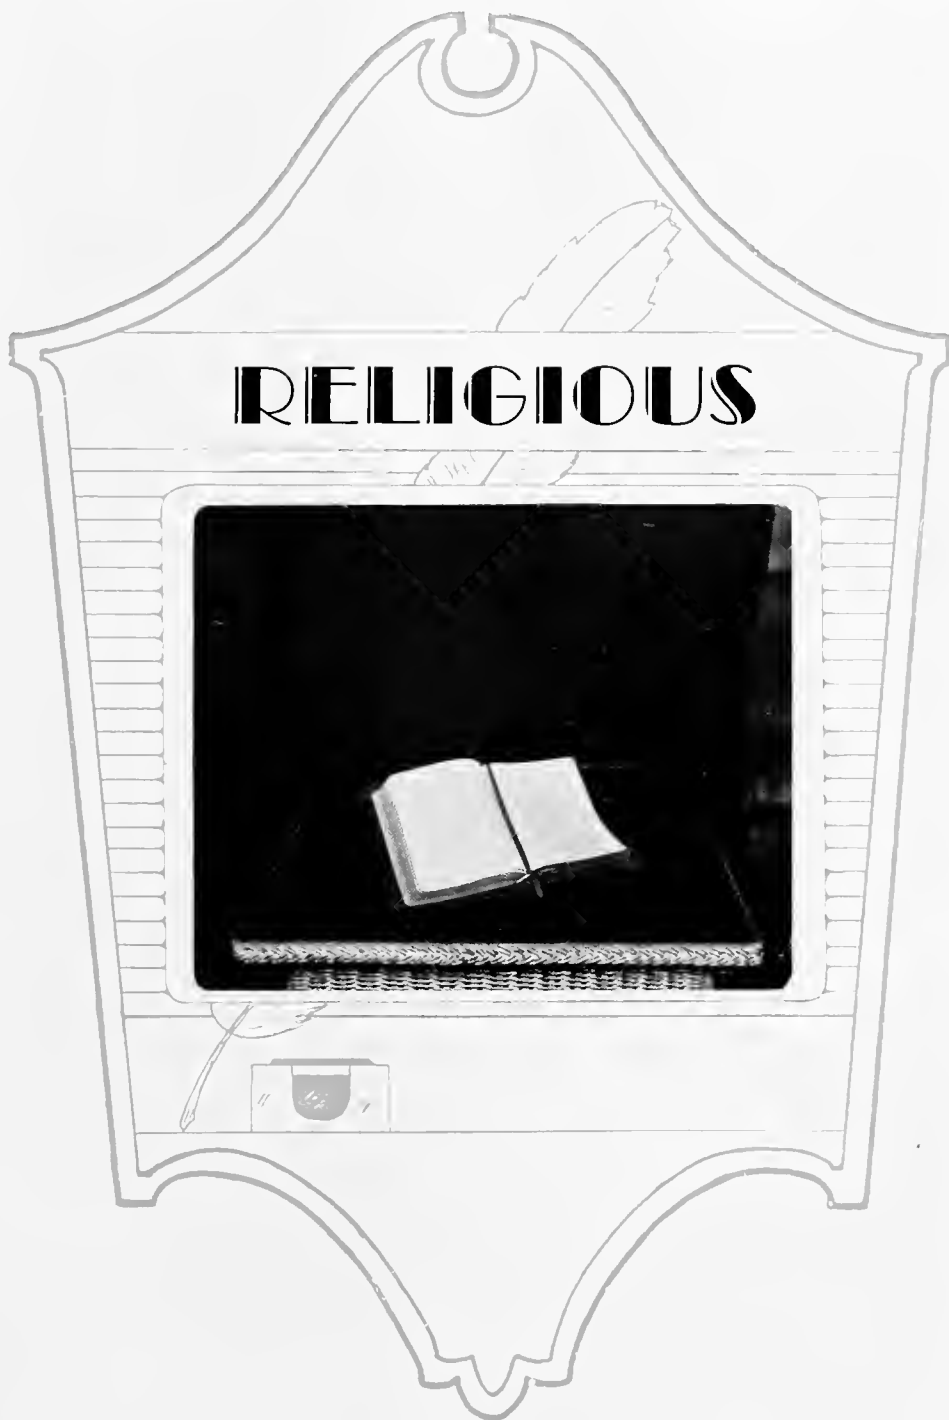

February 19—MISCZYLAU MUNZ, Pianist; ALLAN JONES, Tenor.

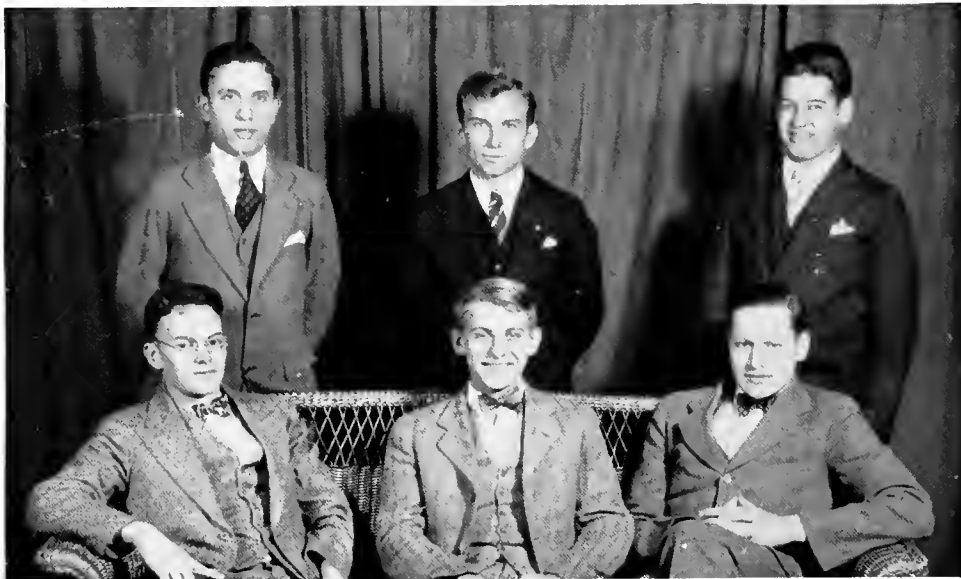

April 11—THE SITTIG TRIO; Piano, Violin and Cello.

Professor Sheldon, Director of the Conservatory of Music, who is responsible for the Star Course, is to be commended upon the variety and quality of this year's program.

The Y. M. C. A. is the one organization that has taken the responsibility to propagate the religious phase of student life on the campus.

The Vesper Services which are held each Sunday evening are sponsored and directed by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. groups. These meetings have proved very beneficial.

The college "Y" is a part of the national organization and it affords students the opportunity of joining the "Y" at reduced rates.

Several speakers have been secured throughout the year and representatives attended all the important religious conferences.

The Y. W. C. A. has proved itself a staunch friend to the new girls on Susquehanna's campus. It is the Y. W. C. A. who sponsors the Big Sister Movement which assists the new girls in becoming adjusted to the college environment. Informal parties given by the "Y" have always been greatly appreciated by the Freshmen.

The Y. W. C. A. has able carried its share of responsibility for making the Vesper Services a success.

RAYMOND RHINE

Those students who are looking forward to the ministry have long felt a need for an organization which would uphold and encourage those things that are of primary interest to Pre-Theological students. Charles Fisher, assisted by Hoffman and Doebler of the Class of '28, was the instigator of such an organization, which began its career last year.

The club has progressed very rapidly. Some very heated discussions have taken place on questions relating to the religious world.

Although a new organization it is proving itself to be a great benefactor.

The Natural Science Club of Susquehanna University was organized in 1920, through the efforts of Dr. Harvey A. Surface and Dr. George E. Fisher. The aims of the club are to further popular interest in scientific investigation and to help especially those students engaged in study in the field of science to a clearer understanding and a more intimate acquaintance in this field of thought.

Meetings are held regularly every two weeks. Interesting talks are given by faculty members, by club members and by visitors. The members are urged to watch the current news for any contributions to science that might be of interest to them. Time is given at each meeting for consideration of the advancement that is being made today in the various branches of this great field.

All who are interested in any phase of natural science are most cordially invited to join the Natural Science Club.

Second row: Witmer; Kempiski; Moyer; Herrold; Hartley; Dormir; Stahlman; Bruno; Selton

Third row: Fisher; Moldenke; Lukehart; Myers; Artz; Phillips

THE PRE-MEDICAL CLUB

President
LEON CHESLEY

Secretary-Treasurer
GLADYS M. STAUB

Vice-President
HARRY PANDOLFO

This group became a regularly organized club, January 1926. Its purposes are: (1) To promote scientific interest and to advance the scientific learning of the pre-medical student; (2) To contribute to the growth of this department in the University; (3) To advance the knowledge and interest in medicine and its practice and application.

Regular meetings are held every two weeks alternating with those of the Natural Science Club. Practicing physicians are invited from time to time to speak to the group. The students are called upon to make research in this work and to read a paper on the result of such a study. The current papers are watched for any articles that might be of value to the members and these clippings are reported upon regularly.

Dr. H. A. Surface, advisor of this department in the University, is advisor for the club.

All students interested in the advancement of public speaking as well as oratorical ability find the Debating Club an excellent opportunity. It was for such a purpose that this organization was established several years ago.

Every Thursday evening during the Fall months practice debates are held by students who desire self-expression on current topics. It is from the material which manifests itself in these trial debates that the coach is able to select the teams.

Mr. Swerian, assisted by Drs. Wood, Kern, and Woodruff, have charge of the teams this year and the season proved itself a very successful one for Susquehanna University.

Membership in the Varsity "S" Club is open to all who wear the Varsity "S."

For several years the Varsity "S" Club was one of the outstanding organizations on the campus. During 1924 and 1925 this organization was exceedingly active and it was at this time that the beautiful gate at the entrance to the athletic field was made possible through the efforts of this club. This structure stands as a monument to the labors of this body of athletes.

The chief purposes of the club are to keep the letter men together and to show deference and hospitality to visiting teams.

When one shaft splits another

NO success once may be a matter of luck. But when one ~~successful~~ and successful Annual "by Canton" is followed immediately by another—and another until they represent a continuous record of achievement, then it must mean "good marksmanship." Details of the successful Canton plan will gladly be given without obligation to any Annual editor, or manager, who is interested. ○○○○○○

POSTWORD

Thus we close another volume of the LANTHORN and consequently another year, eventful and full of promise. May those years which follow and the annuals which are yet unpublished be superior to this one. Our sincerest wishes go with those who shall come after us to profit by our mistakes and improve on our successes.
